DYSPEPSIA.

Great grief and uneasiness of mind, intense study, drinking to excess, particularly of spirituous liquors, and the use of tobacco, opium, and other narcotics, are the causes which usually occasion dyspepsia, and it is principally met with in those who devote much time to study, or who lead either a sedentary or irregular life. The treatment of the disease is to be attempted by tonics, which supply deficiency of bile or gastric juice. To restore the tone of the stomach, and enable it to throw off and dismiss forever all the tormenting and dangerous symptoms, you can place the utmost reliance in HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS. It is a preparation emanating from one of the most celebrated practitioners of modern times, and one of the greatest writers Germany ever produced. This article is now prepared carefully and skillfully, and the most respectable classes of society freely testify to its superlative merits—members of Congress, Judges, clergymen and merchants. In appending certificates, I would have it distinctly understood that they are genuine.

We defy any one to contradict this assertion, and

I have known Hoofland's German Bitters favorably for a number of years. I have used them in my own family, and have been so pleased with their effects that I was induced to recommend them to many others, and know that they have operated in a strikingly beneficial manner. I take great pleasure in thus publicly proclaiming this fact, and calling the attention of those afflicted with the diseases for which they are recommended to these Bitters, knowing from experience that my recommendation will be sustained. I do this more cheerfully as Hoofland's Bitters is intended to benefit the afflicted, and is "not a rum-drink."

Yours, truly, LEVI G. BECK.

From Rev. W. D. Seigfried, Pastor of Twelfth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN: I have recently been laboring under the distressing effects of indigestion, accompanied by a prostration of the nervous system. Numerous remedies were recommended by friends, and some of them tested, but without relief. Your Hoofland's German Bitters were recommended by persons who had tried them, and whose favorable mention of these Bitters induced me to try them. I must confess that I had an aversion to Patent Medicines from the "thousand and one" quack "Bitters" whose only aim seems to be to palm off sweetened and drugged liquor upon the community in a sly way, and the tendency of which, I fear, is to make many a confirmed drunkard. Upon learning that yours was really a medicinal preparation, I took it with happy effect. Its action, not only upon the stomach, but upon the nervous system, was prompt and gratifying. I feel that I have derived great and permanent benefit from the use of a few bottles. Very respectfully yours,

W. D. SEIGFRIED, No. 254 Shackamaxon-st.

From Rev. D. Merrige, Pastor of the Passyunk Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

From the many respectable recommendations given to Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I was induced to give them a trial. After using several bottles I found them to be a good remedy for debility, and a most excellent tonic for the stomach. D. MERRIGE.

From Rev. William Smith, formerly Pastor of the Vincentown and Millville (N. J.,) Baptist Churches, Philadelphia.

Having used in my family a number of bottles of your Hoofland's German Bitters, I have to say that I regard them as an excellent medicine, specially adapted to remove the diseases they are recommended for. They strengthen and invigorate the system when debilitated, and are useful in disorders of the liver, loss of appetite, &c. I have also recommended them to several of my friends, who have tried them, and found them greatly beneficial in the restoration of health.

Yours, truly, WILLIAM SMITH,

From Rev. Thomas Winter, D. D., Pastor of Roxborough Baptist Church.

DEAR SIR: I feel it due to your excellent preparation, Hoofland's German Bitters, to add my testimony to the deserved reputation it has obtained. I have for years, at times, been troubled with great disorder in my head and nervous system. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your German Bitters. I did so, and have experienced great and unexpected relief; my health has been very materially benefited. I confidently recommend the article where I meet with cases similar to my own, and have been assured by many of their good effects.

Respectfully yours, T. WINTER,
Roxborough, Penn.

From John B. Wickersham, Esq., firm of Wickersham & Hutchison, the celebrated Manufacturers of Fancy Iron Works, No. 259 Canal-st.

I am the recipient from you of one of the greatest favors that can be conferred upon man, viz., that of health. For many years have I suffered from one of the most annoying and debilitating complaints that the human family can be afflicted with—chronic diarrhœa.

During the long time I was suffering from this disease, I was attended by regular physicians, giving me but temporary relief. The cause seemed to remain until I was induced to try Hoofland,s German Bitters. After the use of a few bottles of that valuable medicine, the complaint appeared to be completely eradicated.

I often inwardly thank you for such a valuable specific, and whenever I have an opportunity, cheerfully recommend it, with full confidence in its reliability.

Truly yours,
JOHN B. WICKERSHAM.

DEAR SIR: I take great pleasure in testifying to the extraordinary remedial qualities of the Hoofland's German Bitters, procured at your establishment.

A member of my family has been for many years a perfect martyr to Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing offsprings of a torpid liver, until persuaded to try the above celebrated remedy, which in a few weeks resulted in making her (to use her own words) "a new woman."

You are at liberty to make any use of this you see fit, or to refer similar sufferers to

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, April 17.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON TO THE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Union having called a mass meeting of their friends for this evening, invited the President to be present. Mr. JOHNSON sends this reply:

Wm. S. Morse, Esq., Chairman Committee of Arrangements, &c.:

SIR: I have received the invitation to be present at a mass meeting of the soldiers and sailors of Washington, on the 17th inst. In expressing extreme regret at my inability to attend this meeting, I also desire to assure you of my warm appreciation of the debt of gratitude due from the country to those who voluntarily came forward in our army and navy, crushed the power that threatened our existence as a nation, and thereby extended the supremacy and protection of the Constitution, and laws made in pursuance thereof, with the countless blessings flowing therefrom, over all the people in the Union, and of my cordial sympathy and hearty coöperation with any measures looking to their benefit and that of their families.

With great respect, your obedient servant,
ANDREW JOHNSON.

REDUCTION OF TAXES.

It is expected that the Committee of Ways and Means will, this week, report an amendatory Internal Revenue bill, by which the taxes on many articles will be considerably reduced, with a view to encourage manufactures, while other articles will be entirely relieved. The receipts from this source of revenue have largely exceeded the estimates.

THE CATTLE PLAGUE.

The Secretary of the Treasury has addressed the following circular to the Collectors of Customs:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, April, 17, 1869.

"SIR: I have received through the State Department a dispatch from the Consul of the United States at Aspinwall, stating that a cattle disease along the line of the Panama Railroad has made its appearance, and a considerable number are dying daily. The writer does not seem to regard the disease as the rinderpest; but I deem it important that great care should be used in regard to all entries of hides from the vicinities named. You will admit none without being fully satisfied they are free from disease."

JUDGE UNDERWOOD'S DECISION.

The Attorney-General to-day made his report to the President in the habeas corpus case decided by Judge UNDERWOOD, at Alexandria, on the 11th instant, and which was referred to Mr. SPEED for his opinion as reported in my dispatch of the 13th inst. It will be recollected that Judge UNDERWOOD decided that the late peace proclamation did not pretend to revoke the previous proclamation of President LINCOLN suspending in certain cases the writ of habeas corpus in the States lately in insurrection, and upon this view of the law Judge UNDERWOOD refused to grant the prayer of the petitioner. Upon the facts the Attorney-General comes to a different conclusion from that arrived at by Judge UNDERWOOD, and recommends that an order be made for the release of the prisoner. Upon this recommendation the President this afternoon directed that an order be issued for the discharge of the prisoner.

It is scarcely necessary to add that wherever the rebellion is declared to have ceased, there the writ of habeas corpus is no longer suspended, and wherever the civil law has resumed its authority, the military power will not be exercised except to aid the civil authorities in executing their decrees, and for the latter purpose only is the military arm retained in the States lately in rebellion.

EFFECT OF THE PEACE PROCLAMATION.

Several different and erroneous versions of the President's intention and construction of the Peace Proclamation have appeared in the papers. The only official construction by the President of that proclamation which has gone forth up to this time is contained in an answer to the following dispatch:

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 16, 1866.

Maj.-Gen. Howard:

Does the President's proclamation remove martial law in this State? If so, General BRANNON does not feel authorized to arrest parties who have committed outrages on freed people or Union refugees. Please answer by telegraph.

DAVIS TILSON, Brigadier-General of Vols.

To this the following answer was sent to-day by direction of the President:

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON CITY, April 17, 1866.

The President's Proclamation does not remove martial law, or operate in any way upon the Freedmen's Bureau in the exercise of its legitimate jurisdiction. It is not expedient, however, to resort to military tribunals in any case where justice can be obtained through the medium of civil authority.

E. D. TOWNSEND,
Assistant Adjutant-General.

COLORADO.

There is no reason to believe that the Territory of Colorado will be admitted as a State under the Constitution lately adopted in that Territory. Colorado was rejected in the Senate a few weeks ago by a decided vote, and so far as now known, there are but two or three Senators weo are inclined to change their votes on the question.

THE ARMY BILL.

The consideration of the Army Bill in the House to-day only covered two sections, the greater portion o the time being consumed in the discussion of the Veteran Reserve Corps section. A motion to strike out the provision for a Veteran Reserve Corps was lost by 54 majority—an unexpectedly large vote. The bill was then so amended that all officers and soldiers wounded or disabled in the service shall have an equal chance in the organization and recruitments of this Corps. This is eminently fair and just.

NAVY OFFICERS.

The bill of Senator GRIMES relating to the number and mode of selection and promotion of officers of the Navy in some of its more important aspects of difference from the House bill recently passed, results from suggestions of the Secretary of the Navy. The Secretary deemed it advisable to increase the number of line officers, but not to the extent of the number of volunteers added to the regular service by the House bill. He would recommend an increase to the total amount of eight hundred and fifty-seven in all grades. The number allowed by existing laws is seven hundred and twelve. He considers this number adequate to all the exigencies of the public service on peace establishment. With reference to the provision for promotion by selection, he says that the law for the advancement of officers for conspicuous conduct has been carried into effect in the promotion of such heroes as FARRAGUT, ROGERS, ROWAN, WORDEN, WINSLOW and CUSHING. The wisdom of the law by which such promotions have been made, he thinks, cannot be controverted. But there are other officers who have done excellent service whose cases cannot be reached under the stringent terms of the law. He thinks such selections should be carefully guarded, and that an extensive scale of promotions would not only impair their value, but would tend to demoralize the service. He hopes Congress will not neglect the claims of these meritorious officers on account of the difficulties in the way of the proper recognition of their services.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

The following circular has just been issued:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON,
OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE, April 17, 1866.

Blank forms for the annual assessment for the year 1866 are now being distributed in moderate quantities to all Assessors, whether they have ordered them or not. A sufficient quantity will be ready for delivery by the 1st of May, and those Assessors who have not sent in orders for them should do so at once. Those Assessors who have any of last year's blanks on hand can readily change them to correspond with the new blanks, and use them in the present assessment. It is of great importance that this assessment be thoroughly and promptly made, and in those districts where there are not sufficient Assistant Assessors to complete it in sixty days, Assessors are directed to request the appointment of more assistants.

(Signed,) E. H. ROLLINS, Commissioner.

SOLDIERS' MASS MEETING — EQUALIZATION OF BOUNTIES.

A mass meeting of soldiers and sailors took place to-night at the Assembly Rooms, which was densely crowded. The object was to promote such measures as will secure the equalization of bounties, just pension laws, appointments to positions under the Government, and other matters affecting the rights and interests of the soldiers and sailors of the country. Gens. GARFIELD and SMITH, of the House of Representatives, having made speeches in furtherance of these objects, Gen. SCHENCK responded at length to the resolutions adopted. He said from the first until now he would not compromise with traitors. The rebels were down, and he would keep them so until they gave some evidence of repentance, and united in upholding the flag in defence of which there had been so much sacrifice of loyal life and treasure. He characterized as miserable scoundrels those who had attempted to overthrow the best Government on earth. If JEFFERSON DAVIS was to be remembered and punished as one of the leaders of the rebellion, he would not forget that class of traitors who were educated at West Point; and if there was a second sour apple tree, he did not see why ROBERT E. LEE should not meet the same fate as the arch-traitor of the late so-called Confederate States. These remarks were greeted with applause. Col. McKEE, of Kentucky, a member of the House said there should be no compromise with traitors, the test oath should never be repealed, and the Government should be kept in the hands of loyal men. He did not mean by loyal those who were merely obedient to the Constitution and the laws, but those who, throughout the rebellion, were faithful to the flag. He would never permit the traitors who had perjured themselves to hold office under the United States. He was not willing to trust them with new oaths. WASHINGTON would certainly never have invited BENEDICT ARNOLD to his deliberations if the latter had after his treason taken the oath of allegiance. He was not malicious, but he wanted leading rebels punished. He wanted the name of traitor to hang to them until the snows of Winter covered their graves, and show that we were as strong to hang traitors as we were strong enough to suppress the rebellion. Col. STILLWELL, of Indiana, and others addressed the meeting. The last named getleman saying he had no doubt the present Congress would equalize the bounties.

THE MANASSAS GAP RAILROAD.

The stockholders of the Manassas Gap Railroad Company, at their recent meetings in Alexandria, elected EDWARD C. MARSHALL President, and T. A. BREMIS and H. L. LAMONT directors, to negotiate a loan for $1,250,000 to continue and reëstablish the old line from Alexandria to Strasburgh, to execute coupon bonds at 8 per cent. interest, to be secured by a mortgage on the franchise and rolling stock.

THE EMANCIPATION CELEBRATION.

All the Senators have received special invitations to attend the emancipation celebration in this city next Thursday. The members of the House have been invited by advertisement. Colored persons in various portions of the country will be represented by delegations.

PENSIONS.

Gen. VAN WYCK, of New-York, has been here for some days interesting himself with members for the passage of a bill increasing the pensions of soldiers and widows and orphans, and has petitioned the House on their behalf.

THIRTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

SENATE......TUESDAY, April 17.

THE SCHUYLKILL ARSENAL.

Mr. WILSON introduced a joint resolution to provide for the erection of fire-proof buildings at the Schuylkill Arsenal, near Philadelphia, which appropriates $46,000 for the erection of storehouses for the storage of Government property. Referred to the Military Committee.

PUNISHMENT OF FRAUD ON THE INTERNAL REVENUE.

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill to prevent and punish the manufacture and use of false, forged, or counterfeit brands, stamps, or stencils.

The penalty is not less than $5,000 fine and five years' imprisonment. Referred to the Military Committee.

NAVAL AFFAIRS.

Mr. GRIMES introduced a bill to define the number and regulate the appointment of officers in the navy, which was referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

It provides for the following line officers of the navy in each grade: 1 Vice-Admiral, 11 Rear-Admirals, 25 Commodores, 50 Captains, 90 Commanders, 108 Lieutenants, 160 Ensigns; and in other grades the number now allowed by law. Provided, that the increase in the grades below that of Rear-Admiral, and above that of Lieutenant, shall be selected from officers who have been efficient and faithful during the war; and provided, also, that promotions shall be made from the grade next below, and that the number of Rear-Admirals, active and retired, shall be limited to 21. Provision is made for filling vacancies below the office of Rear-Admiral and of line officers of the Marine Corps below that of Colonel Commandant, by selection and promotion by seniority alternately—that is to say, if the vacancies first occurring be filled by selection, the next must be filled by seniority and so on. Provided, that no selection shall be made of any officer having more than one-third of the officers of his grade senior to him on the register; and provided further, that such selection shall be made from officers possessing the highest character and professional qualifications, including a knowledge of steam engineering, the French and Spanish languages, international law, and a clear record for honorable service; and the Secretary may call a board of officers to assist him in case of doubt.

SALE OF LIQUOR IN THE CAPITOL.

The Chair appointed Messrs. WILSON, SHERMAN and GUTHRIE, a Committee of Conference on the subject of the resolution prohibiting the sale of liquor in the Capitol Buildings, the Senate having refused to agree to a House amendment of that resolution.

PETITION.

Mr. WILLEY presented the petition of German Lutherans of Martinsburgh, West Virginia, for compensation for a church destroyed by fire while occupied by United States troops. Referred to the Committee on Claims.

A PERSONAL EXPLANATION.

Mr. CONNESS rose to a personal explanation. He observed by the newspapers that after he left the Senate Chamber yesterday his colleague (Mr. McDOUGAL) made a lengthy speech, in which he stated some grievances that he protested to have against him (CONNESS.) It brought to his mind one fact which he desired to put on record, and for that purpose he rose. In the California State Convention of 1852 it was more than probable he would have supported Mr. McDOUGAL for Congress, but that his chief advocate and supporter was the notorious Gov. SMITH, of Virginia, then in California for the express purpose of giving that State to the South as an outlet for its future Confederacy. The man who was put in nomination by SMITH could not receive his (CONNESS') support under any circumstances. Mr. McDOUGAL was then nominated, and afterward in the House of Representatives voted for the celebrated Kansas-Nebraska Act, which was but the beginning of the end which we have lately seen.

PUBLIC PRINTING.

Mr ANTHONY offered a resolution to print four thousand copies of the report of the Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. ANTHONY, pending the consideration of the above, said that the public and the Senate labored under a misapprehension as to the cost of public printing ordered for the use of Congress. He had seen it stated in a widely circulated newspaper that public documents alone cost two millions a year. This is a mistake. The entire cost of public printing for the past year was $1,750,000. Of this $484,000 was for the War Department, $265,000 for the Treasury Department, $100,000 for the Post-office Department, $45,000 for the Department of Agriculture, $28,000 for the Judiciary, and $25,000 for the Interior Department. This reduces the cost of Congressional printing to $690,000, including paper and binding. In the thirty-third, thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth Congress the cost was $374,000 a year. It must be remembered that more printing could then be done for $347,000 than could now be done for $690,000.

Mr. ANTHONY, in conclusion, said that the public printing office was under the superintendence of a gentleman, JOHN D. DEFREES, who was as faithful and as economical an officer as was in the employ of the Government.

The resolution reported by Mr. ANTHONY was adopted.

CHANGING NAMES OF CERTAIN FORTS.

Mr. SPRAGUE introduced a resolution directing the Secretary of War to change the names of forts called after prominent rebels.

Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

ADMISSION OF COLORADO.

Mr. WILSON called up the motion to reconsider the vote on the admission of Colorado.

Messrs. JOHNSON and GRIMES called for the yeas and nays.

Mr. SUMNER hoped the vote would not be reconsidered. The question had been fully discussed when it was last under consideration. It had been shown that the Territory of Colorado had not population enough for a State, and that the Constitution of Colorado contained the word "white." The great question now before the country, was on striking the word "white" out of the Constitutions of the late rebel States. With what consistency could the Senate admit Colorado with that distinction, while it insisted on the removal of such distinctions in the rebel States?

THE HABEAS CORPUS BILL.

The morning hour expired at this point, and the Senate took up the House bill in relation to the habeas corpus.

Mr. NYE moved to postpone the above-named bill, for the purpose of taking up the bill for the relief of certain naval contractors, which was pending yesterday.

The yeas and nays were called for, and resulted, yeas 17, nays 14, so the bill for the relief of naval contractors was taken up.

THE RELIEF OF NAVAL CONTRACTORS.

The pending question was upon Mr. GRIMES' amendment, to allow the parties recommended by the Naval Board, appointed under the resolution of March last, twelve per cent. on their original contract price.

Mr. NYE addressed the Senate in favor of the bill reported by the Committee on Naval Affairs, for the reimbursement of the contractors.

Mr. GUTHRIE said it was a broad and dangerous principle to lay down, that Congress was found to make good all losses on Government contracts. It was a precedent that ought not to be established. It was not followed in contracts between individuals, and it would not do to be followed in Government contracts.

Mr. SUMNER agreed with Mr. GUTHRIE, that it would be a dangerous principle to establish, that contractors should never lose. But he disagreed with him in the application of the cases. Had the contract been made in time of peace, Congress would not be jusfied in doing what was now proposed, but war had made changes that could not be overlooked. It would be simply an act of justice to make good these losses to the mechanics of the country, who had contributed almost as much, he was about to say, as even the freedmen, to the National success. Were these mechanics to be losers because of the disturbance to the currency of the country, which could not have been foreseen?

Mr. HENDERSON spoke against the bill, as based upon a bill founded upon a bad principle.

Mr. SHERMAN said it was the duty of Congress to scrutinize every claim before it. If the Senate quietly yielded to every demand of this kind the expenses of this year would equal those of a year of war. Two hundred millions would be asked for the equalization of bounties before long. If all such claims were acquiesced in the public debt would soon depreciate in value.

Mr. McDOUGAL took ground in favor of the bill, pleading that it was the duty of the Government to protect and not to oppress. He believed the claim of these contractors was just and ought to be allowed.

Mr. HENDRICKS advocated the claims of the contractors.

Mr. RIDDLE was opposed to the bill, and was in favor of the amendment proposed by Mr. NYE; still more, that of Mr. GRIMES. He believed 12 per cent. additional would fully cover the real loss.

Mr. CLARK objected to the bill as an omnibus measure. He was satisfied there were many just claims in the bill, and he was also satisfied there were many unjust ones in it.

Pending the consideration of the above the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

PUBLIC WORKS.

Mr. ELIOT, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill making appropriations for the repair, preservation and completion of certain public works heretofore commenced under the authority of law, which was read twice and referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

The bill appropriates for the examination and survey of works of improvement for which appropriations have heretofore been made, and concerning which no information is now in possession of the War Department, the following amounts: On the Atlantic Coast, $30,000; on the Pacific Coast, $25,000, and on the Northwestern Lakes, $100,000. It also makes appropriations for extending breakwaters and improving the navigation of rivers and harbors.

THE COMMITTEE FOR THE DISTRICT.

Mr. SHANKLIN asked to be excused from further service on the Committee for the District of Columbia, thinking that under the circumstances, alluding to the remarks yesterday of Mr. INGERSOLL, Chairman of that Committee, he could no longer hold the position with profit to the country or pleasure to himself.

Mr. SHANKLIN was excused.

The House then proceeded, as the regular order of business in the morning hour, to the call of committees for reports.

THE PENSION OFFICE.

A number of pension bills was reported from the Committee on Invalid Pensions.

Mr. PERHAM, from that Committee, reported back with a substitute a bill increasing the salary of the Commissioner of Pensions to $4,000, and of the Chief Clerk of the Pension Office to $2,500.

The second section of the bill authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to appoint from the fourth class clerks in the Pension Office, one chief examiner of army invalid pensions, one chief examiner of army pension claims of widows, mothers and orphans, and one chief examiner of navy pension claims, each of them to have $200 a year more than their present salaries.

Mr. PERHAM moved to amend the substitute by striking out the second section.

Pending debate on the bill, the morning hour expired, and the bill went over until to-morrow.

THE ARMY BILL.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the bill to reorganize and establish the Army of the United States, the pending question being on the motion of Mr DAVIS, to amend the fourth section by striking out that part relating to the Veteran Reserve Corps.

Mr. SCHENCK opposed the amendment, advocating the retention of the Veteran Reserve Corps. If there were not a proposition of this kind in the law, no man wounded in the cause of his country could ever expect to be received again in the service. Who were these wounded officers and men, who were now thought to be unfit to be employed and continued in the service? They had been spoken of disparagingly; there was very great misapprehension in regard to them. In 1863, when the organization was first attempted, there were 680 officers appointed without examination by transfer from the volunteer service. It had been afterward determined that to give a better character to the corps, the officers should undergo a rigid examination, and that their names should be sent to the Senate for confirmation. Out of the 680 first appointed about one-third failed to pass a satisfactory examination, and only 446 officers appointed in 1863 were confirmed by the Senate. In 1864, after a like rigid examination, there were about 400 appointed; and in 1865 about 45, making altogether 890 officers of that corps. Six hundred of them were still in the service, about 400 of them being on duty with Gen. HOWARD in the Freedmen's Bureau. He thought it no breach of confidence to say that he had Gen. HOWARD'S assurance that he had now no better number of good, efficient, capable and intelligent officers. This was Gen. HOWARD'S testimony, but a better source of testimony was furnished by Gen. HOWARD himself. Gentlemen who thought that one-armed men were not fit to be employed in the service of the United States, would dispense with any further commission of trust to the gallant and efficient officer. He had a statement, showing the per centage of wounded officers in the Veteran Reserve Corps. From this it appeared that those who had received one wound composed thirty-five per cent.; two wounds, twenty-five per cent.; three wounds, nine per cent.; four wounds, one and a half per cent.; those who had suffered amputation of the leg, ten per cent., and amputation of the arm nine per cent. The number not wounded, but admitted into the corps, because of disease, was only nine and a half per cent. of the whole number. But after all, this bill provided for sifting from the whole number of wounded officers and men. The true reason for opposition to the Veteran Reserve Corps, on the part of the regular army, was, that all the easy places, the garrison duty, the recruiting stations, and the positions in towns, would probably fall to their share, while the gentlemen of the regular army would have to rough it at the frontier posts, or on the field, or at hard work. His only reply to that was, that if any class of men deserved the easy places it was exactly these men who had not only had the opportunity of proving themselves, but who had proved themselves, and had suffered in their cause, and had got their disabilities in that way. So long as their disabilities did not unfit them for a reasonable share of profitable duty, they should be so employed as compensation for what they had undergone. One-armed men perhaps could not salute, one-eyed men could not handle their opera-glasses gracefully in Washington, and fellows with one leg could not hop in the German or whirl round in the waltz.

Mr. SHELLABARGER stated that he sympathized with the tone of his colleague's remarks, and was earnestly in favor of retaining, as an act of national justice, this Veteran Reserve Corps; but he wished his colleague to state what information he had had about the practicability of keeping ten regiments of the Veteran Reserve Corps supplied with men.

Mr. SCHENCK replied that the tenth section of the bill provided for the difficulty, as in addition to wounds, men recruited for the general service were eligible for the ten regiments of the Veteran Reserve Corps.

Mr. BOUTWELL asked whether, if that was the case, it would not bring together two classes of men, and assign the better duties, which should not be assigned to them.

Mr. SCHENCK replied, that all of these light duties would have to be performed by some men.

Mr. BOUTWELL suggested that it was necessary to allow regiments to be removed from time to time from unhealthy, exposed, and deleterious positions to healthy positions, and the performance of lighter duties.

Mr. STEVENS suggested that some persons understood the bill to mean that all the officers at present in the Veteran Reserve Corps were to be taken to officer the new regiments of that corps, thus excluding wounded officers and men not in that organization. He thought the section should be amended so as to open the doors more definitely to all wounded officers and soldiers.

Mr. SCHENCK had no objection to that, as that was precisely the meaning of the bill. In reply to Mr. BOUTWELL'S question, he reminded him that men did not get sick by companies or regiments, and posts could not be garrisoned by selecting a few men from one regiment, a few from another, a few more from a third, and an officer from a fourth.

Referring to the officers of the regular army, he said that West Point had gone further up than the line officers. West Point occupied for the most part the Bureau; West Point had the general supervision. But when it came down to the Captains, there were 131 from West Point and 393 who had never been there; and of the First Lieutenants, there were 79 from West Point and 368 who had never been there. Of the 1,060 field and company officers, there were only 326 graduates of the military academy, while 734 had not had that advantage.

Mr. CONKLING, of New-York, stated that he was persuaded that the Veteran Reserve Corps should not be petrified in the permanent military system of the Government. This conviction remained unchanged by the very earnest and able appeal made to the House by the Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, and unchanged by the extraordinary efforts that had been made from the outside to convert this House to the opinion that the officers of the Veteran Reserve Corps should be taken up en masse and preferred to all other men. He thought it questionable whether an Invalid Corps should ever be carried into a permanent military establishment. It was no new question. It had received an answer long ago from writers and from men of practical experience. Some time ago the military authorities had invited the first Generals of the age to meet in Washington and to advise in reference to an Army bill. The Lieutenant-General and Gens. SHERMAN, THOMAS and MEADE had accepted the invitation, and that convocation of famous men had given their opinion in writing in reference to the Veteran Reserve Corps, unfavorable to its retention in the army.

The debate on this subject was continued for over two hours, and was participated in further by Messrs. BLAINE, PAINE and WASHBURNE, of Indiana, in favor of retaining the Veteran Reserve Corps, and by Mr. ROGERS in opposition. Finally Mr. SCHENCK moved the previous question, which was seconded, bringing the House to a vote on the amendment to strike out of the section the clause in reference to the Veteran Reserve Corps.

The vote was taken and resulted, yeas 30, nays 84. So the amendment was rejected. The following is the vote in detail:

YEAS—Messrs. Ashley of Nevada, Baker, Baldwin, Benjamin, Boutwell, Boyer, Brandegee, Conkling, Davis, Eldridge, Farnsworth, Finck, Glossbrenner, Goodyear, Harding of Kentucky, Hubbell of New-York, Jenckes, Marshall, Marvin, McCullough, McRuer, Nicholson, Phelps, Ritter, Rogers, Shanklin, Taber, Van Aernam, Washburne of Illinois, Wilson of Iowa—30.

NAYS—Messrs. Ames, Ancona, Baker, Baxter, Beaman, Bidwell, Bingham, Blaine, Broomall, Buckland, Clarke of Ohio, Clarke of Kansas, Coffroth, Cook, Defrees, Delano, Deming, Donnelly, Eckley, Eggleston, Eliot, Ferry, Garfield, Grider, Hale, Harding of Illinois, Hayes, Henderson, Holmes, Hubbard of Iowa, Hubbard of West Virginia, Hulburd, James M. Humphrey, Ingersoll, Julian, Kelly, Ketcham, Kuykendall, Loan, Longyear, Lynch, Marston, McClurg, Mercur, Miller, Morehead, Morris, Myers, Newell, Niblack, O'Neil, Orth, Paine, Patterson, Perham, Price, Randall of Pennsylvania, Randall of Kentucky, Raymond, Rice of Maine, Rollins, Ross, Schenck, Shellabarger, Sitgreaves, Smith, Stevens, Stillwell, Taylor, Thayer, Francis Thomas, John L. Thomas, Jr., Trowbridge, Upson, Van Horn of Missouri, Ward, Washburne of Indiana, Washburn of Massachusetts, Welker, Williams, Windom, Woodbridge—84.

There being no further amendments to the fourth section, it remains in the same terms as telegraphed yesterday.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the fifth section, which provides for the mode of officering the infantry regiments.

A number of amendments were offered to it, and some were adopted.

Mr. CHANLER moved to amend the section by adding a proviso that all acts or parts of acts authorizing the organization of colored troops be repealed. He made an argument, taking the ground that if colored men were not allowed to wear the sword as officers, they should not be asked to carry the musket and bayonet as privates.

The vote on Mr. CHANLER'S proposition was taken by yeas and nays, and resulted yeas 23, nays 85. So the amendment was rejected.

PETITIONS.

Mr. RAYMOND presented the petition of CHARITY WEED, mother of STEPHEN W. WEED, killed at Gettysburgh, to be placed on the pension list. It was referred to the Committee on Pensions.

Mr. KETCHAM presented a memorial from Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, of New-York, asking that pensions may be increased, and the laws so modified that persons entitled thereby may obtain the same with less delay and perplexity than at present; which was referred to the Committee on Invalid Pensions.

EVENING SESSIONS.

On motion of Mr. CONKLING, the evening sessions were dispensed with until otherwise ordered.

A PERSONAL EXPLANATION—THE BANKRUPT BILL.

Mr. DEMING made a personal explanation in reference to the reintroduction of the Bankrupt Bill. He had not listened attentively to the colloquy on the subject yesterday, but he had this morning read a full report of it in the Globe, which prompted him to state the part which he had in the matter. He had seen a paragraph in the Herald affirming distinctly that the bill introduced by Mr. CONKLING was a more perfect bill than the one presented by the Chairman of the Committee, Mr. JENCKES; that it was such a bill that could not be picked to pieces in debate, and that it embodied all the legal acumen of the House. That paragraph seemed to him to do great injustice to the gentleman from Rhode Island. Various members of the House, to whom it was exhibited, concurred with him in that same opinion. He had gone to Mr. RAYMOND and pointed out to him, specifically, the points wherein gross injustice had been done to Mr. JENCKES, and had asked him the privilege of making a correction of it in his paper, solely for the purpose of vindicating the merits and ability of Mr. JENCKES. He had stated to the reporter of the TIMES the facts of the case. He had not done so with the intention of placing Mr. CONKLING before the country in a disagreeable position, and was entirely unconscious of being animated by any inimical motives to him. He now wished to state publicly that if the result of his interference had either injured Mr. CONKLING'S feelings or prejudiced him in the community, he made him the public disavowal of it, and tendered him an apology.

Mr. RAYMOND acknowledged the courtesy and kindness which had prompted the gentleman from Connecticut to make the explanation he had just done. His position in a two-fold capacity as member of Congress and editor of a newspaper, placed him sometimes in an embarrassing condition, and he desired to say now that he would not consider himself called upon to make any explanation on the floor for what might appear in the columns of the NEW-YORK TIMES. Such explanation he would only make as an editor, through the columns of his paper.

Mr. RANDALL thought everybody was satisfied, and moved that the House adjourn, which it accordingly did, at 4:30 P. M.

THE FENIANS.

Fenian Meeting at Calais—Addresses by Killian and Sinnott—The Brotherhood will Respect the Laws of the United States—Americans owe the Irish a Debt of Gratitude for Their Assistance in the Late War—They Must Pay it by Pitching into England—There are a Million Fenians—They will Hold a......Convention! on the Border Until the Confederation Question is Settled—"Every Man that Has Sucked an Irish Mother is a Rebel against British Tyranny"—The Fenians will Justly Settle the Fishery Question—Both Killian and Sinnott Disclaim any Intention of Invading the Provinces—These Speeches get no Cheers, the Audience being only Stupid Americans.

CALAIS, Me., Tuesday, April 17.

A large Fenian meeting was held at St. Croix Hall last night, and was addressed by Messrs. KILLIAN and SINNOTT. The former spoke for an hour on Ireland's wrongs, but declared that in the efforts of the Brotherhood to free Ireland they would respect the laws of the United States. He said the Americans owed the Irish a debt of gratitude for their assistance during the late struggle, and now was their time to assist Ireland in her hour of need. They could do this by sympathy and by furnishing arms or the means to buy them. The Brotherhood now embraced a million of men. It was the true policy of the American nation to prevent the establishment of a monarchy north of them, as was foreshadowed in the British scheme of Confederation. If those opposed to the measure in the Provinces were to revolt on account of it the Fenians were ready to assist them, and in doing so would be carrying out what was the true American policy. If the Americans wanted to remove monarchy from Mexico how much more careful ought they to be that there is not one now established at Ottawa. He declared it to be the intention of the Fenians to continue holding a convention on the border until the confederation question was settled. Every difficulty that arose under the British flag gave hope to an Irish rebel, and every man that had sucked an Irish mother was a rebel against British tyranny. The fishery question was another which the Fenians would see was justly settled, which could only be when Great Britain gave up her unwarrantable claims. He dwelt largely upon British neutrality during the late war, and made a strong appeal to the sympathies of the people of Calais on this point.

The meeting was attentive, but not enthusiastic. The applause proceeded chiefly from a knot of Fenians in one corner of the hall, who received the signal from the platform.

Mr. SINNOTT made a long and ranting blood-and-thunder speech, which amounted to nothing. Both speakers emphatically stated that they did not intend to invade the provinces.

FROM MEXICO.

The Liberals Capture a Wagon Train—Canales Repulsed by the Imperial Forces.

NEW-ORLEANS, Tuesday, April 17.

Advices from Brownsville say it was reported there that the Liberals had captured a wagon train between Paros and Monterey with $20,000, and killed and captured about 200 French soldiers.

The train, consisting of 150 wagons, left Monterey about the 1st of April, with supplies and money for Matamoras, escorted by 1,400 Imperialists. Gen. CANALES and others, with about 2,400 Liberals, and NAVAJOS, with the Liberal cavalry, left Camargo on the 3d to intercept the train.

MEJIA had left Matamoras to meet the approaching small column, Gen. OLIVERA commanding Matamoras during his absence, well provided against any attack.

The Courier says: It is rumored that the train from Monterey has already been attacked and captured 12 miles above Matamoras; that MEJIA has been defeated; that Matamoras will be attacked to-day or to-night; and that Bagdad has been taken; but none of these stories are reliable.

The Matamoras Ranchero speaks encouragingly of Gen. GYLTY'S administration on the border. Emigrants are continually arriving at Matamoras from the States in large numbers.

The Matamoras Ranchero of the 13th says the Imperial forces under JOONINGROS arrived at Cherco Escandido on Sunday last, twenty-two leagues from Matamoras. A short distance beyond that point CANALES endeavored to dispute his passage, but was repulsed by LOPEZ' regiment, losing 22 killed and a large number of wounded. Two hundred wagons accompany the Jooningross expedition, which is provided with every requisite for a thorough and active campaign. A specie train leaves Monterey soon, under TREAMS, for Matamoras.

Gen. MEJIA is now with GOONINGROS, arranging plans for opening the campaign against the Liberals. No fears are entertained for Matamoras, which is impregnable against attack. Victoria, Satille, Monterey and Chihuahua are fortified.

ESCOBADO, CANALES and CORTINA appear to be operating independent of each other. CANALES is up the river, and CORTINA between Matamoras and Victoria. ESCOBADO has withdrawn in the direction of Lazores.

NASHVILLE, Monday, April 16.

The Legislature met to-day. A violent attack was made by two members upon two daily papers, the Gazette and the Banner of this city. The Knoxville Whig was also assailed by Mr. WILLIAMS, a member of the House.

He also captured EDMUND MAYO, a constant companion of HARPER, and the accomplice in all his crimes. HARPER broke from his captors and effected his escape, but he is believed to be severely wounded. His recapture can be made without difficulty. MAYO was brought here to-day, and will be held in close confinement for trial before the Military Commission.

A street fight occurred on Elm-street to-day. The combatants were separated by Gen. WM. BROWNLOW, the son of the Governor.

THE TURF.

Trotting on the Fashion Course, L. I.—Opening of the Spring Trotting Season.

Yesterday was regarded as the legitimate commencement of the trotting season on Long Island, the first of the series of purses given by the new proprietor of the Fashion Course being then contended for. It is true that a trot had come off on this track the week previous; but as it was more of a private than a public character, few of the regular habitues of the course attended it. Yesterday, however, there was a strong muster of the owners and trainers of fast horses, as well as of those who love to see them trot; and had the day been more favorable, the attendance would have been vastly increased. The dull appearance of the sky all the morning indicated rain, and led many to suppose the trot would be postponed. Mr. CROCHERON, the new lessee of the course, however, is strongly opposed to postponements, and declared that the race should come off according to announcement. The race was for a purse of $100, mile heats, best three in five, under saddle, and had seven entries. The backward condition of four of these led to their being withdrawn, and three were left to compete for the purse. These were S. R. PERKINS' (of Hartford) b. g. Toby Candor; E. PERRIN'S b. g. Bill Whelan, and M. C. SMITH'S br. m. Kate Atwood. There was considerable speculation in the pool sales, conducted by JAKE SOMERINDYKE, Bill Whelan and Kate Atwood being alternately the favorite, and the Hartford horse selling for a mere song. Just before the start, however, Bill Whelan became in such force that he was backed at even against the field. DAN MACE rode Toby Candor, JOHN MURPHY was on Kate Atwood, and E. PERRIN piloted Bill Whelan. The track, in consequence of the heavy rain of the preceding day, was heavy, and fast time was not expected.

FIRST HEAT.—A pretty fair start was effected, Bill Whelan and Toby Candor going around the upper turn together, with the mare last. Before reaching the quarter pole Whelan broke, and the Hartford horse went in front, passing that point in 46 seconds, three lengths ahead of Kate. Going along the back stretch, Toby went up, and the mare took the lead for a short distance, when MACE having got his horse down to a square, again went in front, and led a length and a half to the half mile pole in 1:28. He increased his lead on the third quarter, and as they turned into the home stretch, he was four lengths in advance of Bill Whelan, who had taken second place from Kate, who had broke up badly. The heat was now virtually over, for Toby increased his advantage at every stride in coming up the stretch, and crossed the score a winner by ten lengths, in 2:55. Bill Whelan was second, and Kate Atwood last.

SECOND HEAT.—Two to one was now freely offered on the Hartford horse winning, yet the other two had their backers. A pretty fair start was effected, Kate being a little behind the other two. Rounding the turn Toby Candor went ahead, and Kate was carried off her feet; the former passed the quarter pole in 44 seconds, half a length ahead of Bill Whelan, who was as far before the mare. The two last trotted along the back stretch side by side, with Toby a clear length in front, and he held this advantage as they passed the half mile pole in 1:25. Going along the Flushing stretch Kate broke and lost considerable ground, and the Hartford horse trotting steadily throughout, opened so wide a gap that he crossed the score an easy winner by half a dozen lengths, Kate beating Whelan, who broke half way up the distance, for second place. Time, 2:46.

THIRD HEAT.—No betting, as no amount of odds would tempt backers to speculate. Toby Candor got the worst of the start, but quickly passed the mare as they rounded the upper turn, and was two lengths behind Whelan as the latter passed the quarter-pole in 44 seconds. At the half-mile pole this lead had been reduced to a length, and Whelan breaking on the three-quarter stretch, Mace passed him, was never again headed, and trotting steadily without a break, won the heat and race by six lengths; Kate Atwood beating Whelan for second place. Time, 2:45.

The winner is a well-bred, handsome-looking bay horse, stands a little over sixteen hands, six years old, with two white hind legs. It is alleged that he is by Mambrino Chief, out of a thoroughbred mare, and was run off from Mr. ALEXANDER'S farm, near Lexington, Ky., by guerrillas in 1864. He is engaged in six other purses on this course during the Spring season.

TUESDAY, April 17—P. M.

There was a good demand for Exchange on London to-day for the steamer Cuba sailing on Wednesday afternoon. The business for this packet will continue up to 12 or 1 o'clock to-morrow. There was a liberal supply of Bills on the market, but the rates were rather fuller than yesterday's quotations, say 107⅝@107¾ ℘ cent. for standard names. The direct Exports of Cotton from New-York this week amount to 21,100 bales, and for all the ports they will probably reach 48,000 or 50,000 bales—the heaviest for any single week since the close of the war. Of the shipments from New-York, 18,586 bales go to Liverpool, 1,101 to Hamburg, 920 to Bremen and 485 to Havre.

The Banks and other Money-lenders are getting only 4@5 ℘ cent., at call, from the leading Brokers, and considerable balances are carried over without finding borrowers even on these cheap terms on first-class collateral. The Treasury Office has notified the Associated Banks that no more than 4 ℘ cent. will be allowed on their Clearing-house Certificates of Deposit after the 1st of May, in place of 5 ℘ cent. as heretofore. The change of rate will no doubt be concurred in by the New-York Clearing-house Association, and probably by the Associated Banks of Boston and Philadelphia. The amount held in the Treasury for the New-York Banks is $25,000,000.

The sales of Government securities of all descriptions to-day were active and at very full rates, especially for the Compound legal tenders of 1867 and 1868. These Notes command within a small fraction of par and the full accumulated interest at the rate of 6 ℘ cent. a year from their respective dates. The 7.30 ℘ cents. are 100⅞@101 and interest, and the 5-20s, 104⅛@⅜ ℘ cent. including the May Coupon. The 6 ℘ cents. of 1881 and the 5 ℘ cents. 10-40s were also firm and but few offered.

On the Stock Exchange the Railway and Miscellaneous shares were again active, and the temper of the market firm through the forenoon, except for Quicksilver which gave way to 53½ ℘ cent. At the Afternoon Boards there was less strength to the Railway prices, and sales were made at a decline of ½@1 ℘ cent. from the best rates of the morning of the New-York and Western lines. The market is quite sensitive to any considerable movement either way. A cash demand for Erie about 12 o'clock advanced the price to 75 ℘ cent. At a later hour sellers were found ready at 73⅞@74 ℘ cent. The extreme advance in Pittsburgh was not quite supported, and Rock Island receded to 118 ℘ cent.

At 5:30 P. M. the following quotations were made as compared with Monday night. The price of Gold was a fraction higher; the Exchange on London firm; the Railways irregular in the temper of the dealings, though weaker than in the forenoon.

The day's business at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States was as follows: Total receipts, $1,634,406 23; for Customs, $490,000; on account of Loan, $340,000; Gold notes, $602,000; Payments, $1,780,970 76; Balance, $90,621,997 76.

The communication which we publish on the Missouri State Debt is from Mr. JOSEPH M. PRICE, the President of the Oriental Bank of this City, and the author of the well-known Tables of Interest and Investment. No accountant in the whole country better understands the true merit (or want of merit) and bearing of the recent proposition of Missouri in regard to funding the arrearages of interest and extending the principal of the Railway Public Debt of the State. We notice, in this connection, that the Bill refunding the War expenses of the State, to the large sum of $6,750,000, has passed both Houses of Congress. The necessity for paying these expenses as they accrued during the War was the best apology of the State for defaulting on the interest due to the public creditors. The State exhausted its own treasury and failed to enforce the obligations of its Railway corporations to provide their respective quotas of interest during the War. The United States Government now refunds to the State Treasury all its War expenditure, but no part of which the State proposes to pay over to the Bondholders whose interest was held in abeyance during the war. Nor is this the worst feature of the proposed settlement. Its whole tenor is to ignore the primary obligation of the Railway corporations to the bondholders. Their indorsement or guarantee of interest and principal, for the valuable consideration of this loan of the State credit to the construction of their roads, is placed upon every original bond, now proposed to be renewed and extended, without such indorsement, and without reference to the earnings of the roads as part or parcel of the security for the prompt payment of future interest, and with quite as little regard for the mortgage lien upon the roads implied in the original negotiation. There has never been a doubt that the State of Missouri stands in a double relation to its Bondholders—first, as the maker of the obligation, to which the public faith is pledged; and, secondly, as trustee to the mortgage lien upon the Railways, to the building of which the proceeds of the Bonds were appropriated. Yet in the proposed readjustment of the debt, the only reference to this last trust is, that the moneys due the State—not its Bondholders—from the roads, shall hereafter, when paid into the treasury, be paid in the new Bonds, or if in cash, then invested in the Bonds.

The following is a statement of the approximate earnings of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company during the month of March, ult., compared with the same period of last year:

Missouri State Bonds.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

During the existence of the rebellion the expenditures of this State for war purposes were so great as to compel a suspension of payment of interest on their bonded debt. At the last sessions of Congress the State claimed reimbursement for four millions of dollars of such expenses, and it was allowed by both Houses, and was included in a General Deficiency Bill, which failed to become a law, by reason of disagreement on some other items contained in the bill.

The State has renewed its claim, increased to seven millions of dollars; it has passed both Houses, and doubtless has, or will, receive the signature of the President. The last interest paid on their bonds was on Jan. 1, 1861, and they now propose to fund the interest, $420, to become due to Jan. 1, 1868, in a consolidated bond of that date for $1,420, bearing interest for a term of four years each at 3 ℘ cent., 4 ℘ cent. and 5 ℘ cent. respectively; then for six years at 6 ℘ cent.; then for a term of four years each at 7 ℘ cent., 8 ℘ cent. and 9 ℘ cent. respectively, making thirty years in all, and averaging 6 ℘ cent. for the whole time. Now it will be seen that while the interest averages 6 ℘ cent. for the whole thirty years, yet, during the first four years, it is proposed to pay but 3 ℘ cent, and require you to wait twenty-six years for the remaining 3 ℘ cent., which is then paid by the rate being made 9 ℘ cent. for four years. In like manner during the second four years it is proposed to pay but 4 ℘ cent., and require you to wait eighteen years for the remaining 2 ℘ cent., which is then paid by the rate being made 8 ℘ cent. for four years. And again, during the third four years, it is proposed to pay but 5 cent, and require you to wait ten years for the remaining 1 ℘ cent., which is then paid by the rate being made 7 ℘ cent. for four years.

Now let us see what the gain to the State will be by this financial operation; and my computations are all made to show such result as the equivalent to cash on the 1st January, 1868, regarded as a 6 ℘ cent. investment:

1.	Accumulated interest on deferred payments of seven years' interest to the 1st January, 1868, entirely ignored in the proposed plan.	$92 59
2.	Deferred payment for 26 years, on difference between 3 ℘ cent. and 6 ℘ cent., on the first term of 4 years	117 37
3.	Deferred payment for 18 years, on difference between 4 ℘ cent. and 6 ℘ cent., on the second term of 4 years	51 54
4.	Deferred payment for 10 years, on difference between 5 ℘ cent. and 6 ℘ cent., on the third term of 4 years	13 86
	These four items amounting to	$275 36

will constitute the gain to the State on each $1,000 of their present bonded debt of $21,132,000, proposed to be consolidated, and amounts to the sum of $5,818,907 52.

The great State of Missouri can, and certainly will, if it has a proper regard for its plighted faith, appropriate a portion of its seven millions war claim, toward the payment of the just and equitable five millions claim of its bondholders.

As I have before stated, the loss to the bondholder previous to consolidation, is $92 59; this would be the only loss, were the new bonds made to bear 6 ℘ cent. each and every year for the whole thirty years, instead of the proposed average of 6 ℘ cent., and the present bond for $1,000 would then be worth at the date of consolidation, $1,420, as a 6 ℘ cent. investment; but the loss by the averaging process amounts to $182 77, which deducted from $1,420, gives $1,237 23 as its true value on the first of January, 1868.

I will humbly suggest as a compromise in this matter, that the bondholders forego their claim for accumulated interest on the seven years' deferred interest to first January, 1868, amounting to $92 59, and receive the new consolidated bonds as proposed, conditioned upon the State paying upon each bond, in cash on the first January, 1868, $182 77, the equivalent for the averaging process. This would require the sum of $3,862,295 64, or a little more than half what the State is to receive on its war claim.

Such a course would redound to the honor and credit of the State of Missouri, and would make the consolidation a fair and equitable financial transaction.

JOS. M. PRICE.

Important Order from Superintendent Kennedy in Relation to the Sale of Intoxicating Liquors.

The following comprehensive and important order has just been issued from Police Headquarters, in relation to the inspection of all places where liquor is sold or drank, with a view to determine the licensing of the same:

OFFICE OF THE SUPT. OF METROPOLITAN POLICE,
NO. 300 MULBERRY-STREET, NEW-YORK,
April 17, 1866.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 449.—Capt. ——: The Legislature having passed an Act to "Regulate the Sale of Intoxicating Liquors within the Metropolitan Police District of the State of New-York," and having constituted and created the Metropolitan Board of Health a Board of Excise, and empowered said Board to grant licenses for selling "strong and spirituous liquor, wines, ale and beer," to persons of good moral character, whom they shall approve, within the Metropolitan District, except the County of Westchester; and having, by said act, also conferred upon the police of the Metropolitan District the power and duty to summarily close any place where a violation of the law may be taking place, and to arrest, as for misdemeanor, any persons who violate the law; it becomes proper for the police to furnish such information to the Board of Excise as will enable them to judge of the fitness to hold license of each person who heretofore has followed the business of selling any of the enumerated liquors as a beverage.

You will, therefore, make report to this office, arranged by street and number, on or before the 28th day of April, current, of every place in your precinct where such liquors, or any of them, have been sold, at any time during the past twelve months; in every case giving the full name of each person so engaged in selling, whether as sole proprietor or partner.

You will, also, in each case, report distinctly on the following points:

1. Whether sales were made under authority of license duly granted by Excise Commissioners of the County, or in defiance thereof.
2. Whether the places were kept open, or liquors of any kind were sold, on Sundays or election days.
3. Whether the places were open for business between 12 o'clock at night and sunrise, or during any portion of that period of time.
4. Whether females were employed as bartenders or waiters in the drinking rooms.
5. Whether music or other extraneous attractions were introduced into the drinking rooms.
6. What class of persons have been in the habit of frequenting the place.
7. Whether it has been necessary for the police to visit the place for the protection of the public peace. If so, how often.
8. Whether the proprietor has been arrested by the police since being engaged in this business. If so, how often and on what charges.

BOARD OF COUNCILMEN.

STATED SESSION,
MONDAY, April 16, 1866.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment, in their Chamber, number seventeen City Hall.

Present—J. Wilson Green, Esq., President in the Chair, and the following members:

ADVERTISING OF THE CITY PRESS.

The Times the Great Organ of the Business Public.

Annexed is the aggregate amount of advertising returned to the Revenue Department, (according to the Herald's figures,) for the thirteen months ending Dec. 31, 1864, and for the year ending Dec. 31, 1865, by The Times and the Herald respectively:

Paper.	1864. No. of Lines.	1865. No. of Lines.	Total. No. of Lines.
Times	1,645,413	1,896,080	3,541,493
Herald	1,443,837	1,655,480	3,099,317
Times excess.	201,576	240,600	442,176

This shows THE TIMES to be, by its extensive and comprehensive circulation among business people, its larger sheet and clearer print, the chief organ of the advertisers of the Metropolis, and the medium of communicating their wants to the public.

Note.—The number of lines in the Herald columns averages about 260, counting short and long advertisements. It seems, then, that The Times published, in 1865, nine hundred and thirty-six columns more advertisements than did the Herald. That fact conclusively decides which paper is the chosen Business Organ of the People.

Second Note.—The following "note" appears in the Herald of the 12th inst.:

> "The Times, in order to make a show of business, publishes a statement pretending that it is from the official returns to the Revenue Department. This statement is made up in the Times office to suit its own purposes. No returns of the kind have ever been made to that Department. Our table, given above, is taken from the official books, and is strictly correct in every particular."

All the "pretending" we have made has been to take the Herald's own returns. If they are not accurate, the fault is certainly not ours. We simply showed by exact deduction from their own figures how much advertising each paper printed, and were very careful to be within the limit. The fact that the Times last year printed nearly one thousand columns more advertisements than did the Herald cannot be denied, that is if the Herald's revenue figures are correct. We point to actual advertising, as measured up from our files; our neighbor infers so much advertising from certain returns that might as well represent anything else.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, yesterday, Mr. Wilson introduced a bill to prevent and punish the issue of false stamps, brands and stencils, which was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs. Mr. Grimes introduced a bill regulating the appointment of officers in the navy. It provides for 1 Vice-Admiral, 11 Rear-Admirals, 25 Commodores, 50 Captains, 90 Commanders, 108 Lieutenants, 160 Ensigns, and in other grades the number now allowed. Mr. Wilson moved that the Senate proceed to reconsider the vote on the admission of Colorado. Mr. Sumner hoped the Senate would not reconsider that vote, and spoke against the motion. The morning hour expired, and the bill in relation to the relief of Naval Contractors was taken up, and pending its consideration the Senate adjourned.

In the House Mr. Eliot reported a bill making appropriations for certain public works. It appropriates on the Atlantic coast, $30,000; on the Pacific coast, $25,000; and on the northwestern Lakes, $100,000. It also makes appropriations for extending breakwaters and improving the navigation of rivers and harbors, &c. Mr. Perham, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, reported back a bill increasing the salary of the Commissioner to $4,000, and of the Chief Clerk to $2,500. The Army Bill was next taken up, the question being on the motion to strike out that part of the fourth section relating to the Veteran Reserve Corps. After a long debate, the amendment was rejected—Yeas 30, nays 84. Mr. Chanler moved an amendment to repeal all acts authorizing the organization of colored troops. The motion was lost—Yeas 23, nays 85.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

At the Monday evening session of the Senate, the bill to incorporate the Niagara Ship Canal Company was considered in Committee of the Whole. After a lengthy discussion the bill was amended by giving the Canal Board the power to levy tolls, and by providing that the canal shall not be constructed until the Erie and Oswego Canals are sufficiently enlarged to accommodate a boat carrying 20,000 bushels of corn. The bill was then ordered to a third reading. Yesterday the following bills were passed: Incorporating the Traders' Exchange; incorporating the Bond Deposit Company of New-York; to facilitate the construction of the Whitehall and Plattsburgh Railroad—it appropriates $50,000 per mile for 90 miles, passed by 24 to 8; to aid in the construction of the Albany and Susquehannah Railroad—it appropriates $500,000; for the relief of Gen. Ward B. Burnett—it appropriates $3,600; incorporating the Harlem River and Port Chester Railroad Company; for railroad between the villages of Jamaica and Hempstead in Queens County; the Hudson-avenue, Brooklyn, Railroad Bill; the Brooklyn and Greenpoint-avenue Railroad Bill; authorizing the Long Island Railroad Company to increase their capital stock; to provide for the more speedy determination of charges against officers liable to be removed by the Governor; to limit the liability of inn-keepers. The Niagara Ship Canal Bill was amended so as to provide that the act shall not take effect until one tier of locks on the Erie and Oswego Canal shall have been enlarged so as to permit of the passage of boats 200 feet long and 23 feet wide. The Central Railroad Fare Bill was ordered to a third reading. At the late session the Christopher-street or Crosstown Railroad Bill was taken up in Committee of the Whole and ordered reported. The Senate refused to order the bill to a third reading—yeas 12, nays 17. The bill was declared lost, and a motion to reconsider was also lost. A motion to report the Underground Railroad Bill was lost—yeas 12, nays 14; also a motion to reconsider—yeas 9, nays 17.

In the Assembly yesterday, the bill providing for the taxation of stockholders of banks was referred. The bill regulating the hours of labor for drivers and conductors on street cars and omnibuses in New-York, was put on its third reading and passed. A bill was reported to amend an act to widen the Broadway and Bloomingdale road, between Fifty-seventh and Fifty-ninth streets. A concurrent resolution to adjourn sine die on Friday, at twelve o'clock, noon, was adopted.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Richmond Examiner has this paragraph: "During a very recent trip to Washington and Baltimore, we were much pleased to hear the reiterated assertion that President Johnson would soon liberate Mr. Davis, either unconditionally or upon his parole. Our feelings in this matter are well known, for we have often urged the release of the illustrious prisoner who pines in an unjust confinement at Fortress Monroe. We have no doubt that his trial would be a triumph to the South, but that is a thing not to be expected. The delays that have already kept Mr. Davis an unheard sufferer so long are premeditated, and will continue until he dies, if the President is so ill-advised as to detain him after all his coadjutors have been amnestied and forgiven. The world will be apt to think that the Ex-President is the victim of personal spite, instead of the object of public justice."

Three hundred and forty Indians, of the Yellow Medicine tribe of Sioux, the remnant of Little Crow's band, who committed the massacre in Minnesota in 1862, and were taken prisoners by Gov. Marshall, have been sent up the Missouri River, to be settled in a portion of one of the Territories, where they will be watched and kept out of mischief. One of them boasts that he killed and scalped a dozen white women. Thirty-nine of the ringleaders of the massacre were tried and hung, but Little Crow made his escape with a portion of his band. These Indians, of whom about one hundred and fifty are squaws, have been held as hostages ever since.

A letter from Maj.-Gen. Sherman to the Secretary of State of Iowa, says: "In order to afford the best possible protection to the emigration of the year, we have made the region of Montana, and the routes leading thereto a separate military department, of which Gen. P. St. George Cooke is the commander." He also says: "If emigrants will go to Omaha, Fort Kearney, Atchison and Laramie, thence by Fort Reno, they will find a well-guarded road all the way, and also the Missouri River route. It will be dangerous to go by the Niobrarah route this year."

Hon. F. A. Lincoln, Mayor of Boston, accompanied by Rev. Dr. S. K. Lothrop, Rev. Henry Burroughs, Alderman Charles W. Slack, editor of the Boston Commonwealth, Dr. Upham, Dr. Shurtleff, and other gentlemen connected with the schools of Boston, arrived in town yesterday, and visited several of our schools, under escort of a Committee of our Board of Education. In the evening they dined at the mansion of Commissioner Richard Warren, in Sixteenth-street, and to-day they are to visit other schools. They return to-morrow.

The Alexandria Gazette says a disturbance occurred at Leesburgh on Tuesday, in consequence of an attempt of the military guard there to take from Col. Mosby, who was in town, his overcoat, which had on it some Confederate buttons, or was gray cloth or something of the kind. He refused to give it up, and mounted his horse to leave town, when he was pursued, and fired at by those who followed him. The next day this military company, it is said, were ordered from Leesburgh.

The Omaha Republican of the 9th has some rather exciting news from Utah. It learns that "the greatest excitement prevails among the Mormons, and a fixed determination on their part to drive out or exterminate all Gentiles. Eight men have recently been assassinated, while the editor of the Vedette, with all other Gentiles, has been notified to quit the country. Placards are posted up in Salt Lake City warning all Gentiles to leave immediately."

The Tennessee laws prohibit free negroes from keeping tippling saloons or billiard-saloons. In the common court at Memphis, several of these cases have lately been brought up. The counsel for the defence pleaded the Civil Rights Bill in abatement, contending that all were on equal footing. Judge Hunter reserves his opinion. It is thought that a test may be made of these cases.

A letter from Helena, Montana Territory, dated March 4, contains a reference to the Indian troubles in the vicinity of Fort Benton, from which it appears that an expressman had been murdered on the road from Union to that post. His body was found pierced with arrows. Capt. Pease and two other persons, who were on their way to Benton from the same place, had met a similar fate.

The Detroit Tribune learns that the ice at Mackinac on the 4th inst., was two-and-a-half feet thick, solid and blue, and at least one-and-a-half feet of snow on it. Far out in Lake Huron, beyond Bois Blanc Island, there is a solid sheet of ice. There is good crossing from Middle Village to Pine River, and from Cross Village to Beaver Island. The straits will not be open before the 1st of May.

The Mercer expedition has at last been heard from. After a pleasant voyage, diversified only by the usual incidentals of sea-sickness, the Continental reached Rio on the 10th of February. The friends of the young ladies who have ventured on this expedition will be glad to learn that they were all well and in good spirits.

The evidence of W. E. Davis, in the Gee trial, in addition to other important matters, established the fact of the killing of fourteen more Union prisoners at the time of the alleged mutiny than have heretofore been reckoned among those shot on that occasion.

Twenty-one thousand acres of land were entered at the Junction City, Kansas, Land Office in February and March under the Homestead and Preemption acts. This land all lies in the extreme western part of Kansas.

From Georgia accounts are received of bad behavior on the part of the freedmen in breaking their contracts and leaving their employers, in hope of getting higher wages elsewhere. It is hoped that the statements are exaggerated.

Maj.-Gen. James Shields addressed a mass meeting of the citizens of Livingston County, Missouri, on April 9. He took emphatic ground against the radicals and their policy, and vigorously defended President Johnson.

LOCAL NEWS.

The strike of the car drivers still continues, to the great inconvenience of the public. Neither the employers nor the employed seem willing to make any concessions whatever. New drivers are being employed by the companies, but so many threats are made against them by the strikers that few can be induced to do a full day's work. It requires almost the entire Police force of the City to keep the peace in the vicinity of the railroad depots and along the various routes, and the companies dare not attempt to run their cars at night. It is said that legal measures will be taken this morning to prevent the companies employing drivers who have not been residents of the City for six months, and also to compel them to run their cars regularly. A large meeting of citizens was held in Eighth-avenue last evening for the purpose of expressing sympathy with the drivers.

At the meeting of the Metropolitan Board of Health, yesterday, Mr. Horatio P. Allen and a delegation of citizens of Yorkville and Harlem appeared to protest against the removal of slaughter-houses to a point on the East River between those two populous settlements. Gen. Levi S. Chatfield and Mr. John D. Billings were heard on behalf of their clients, upon whom the Attorney of the Board had served notices. A report was received from Dr. Harris concerning the New-York Hospital, and Dr. White, of that institution, was made one of the Board's district inspectors. Superintendent Dalton was instructed to communicate with the Secretary of War, asking that the unoccupied barracks on the Battery be assigned to the Board, for their use in the event of a pestilence.

The Special Term of the Supreme Court, Justice Ingraham presiding, yesterday rendered judgment of $100,576 65 against the New-York and New-Haven Railroad Company, with interest on $54,834 66 from the 10th of April inst. The action is entitled the New-York and New-Haven Railroad Company vs. Robert Schuyler and others, and is one of the many suits which grew out of the Schuyler frauds perpetrated several years ago upon the stockholders of that Company and many others. This particular case was taken to the Court of Appeals, and by that tribunal sent back to the Special Term for the purpose of finally disposing of some of the questions involved. The above-named judgment is in favor of Ketchum & Bement, two of the defendants.

In the Police Courts yesterday the following commitments were made: Thomas O'Brien and Darby Kelly, on a charge of obtaining $65 from Mary McLaughlin by false representations; John Riley and John Brady, on a charge of stealing two pocket-books containing $235 from Patrick Clancy; Philip Hauf and Peter Murphy, aged 10 and 9 years, on a charge of grand larceny; Mary Jane Nickroual, on a charge of having stolen $700 in gold and silver coin, and a valuable gold watch and chain, from her employer, Mrs. Hettie Hutten; George Clifton, on a charge of burglary at No. 2 Henry-street; Richard Rutherford, on a charge of picking pockets.

An important suit for slander was on trial yesterday in the Supreme Court, Circuit, before Justice Bockes and a Jury. The action is entitled August Rosenthal vs. Myer Rosenblatt. It is alleged that the defendant called the plaintiff a "thief," and said "he has stolen $1,000 worth of goods and $1,000 worth of notes too." For these slanderous words plaintiff claimed damages to the amount of $5,000. The case was submitted to the Jury, who had not agreed when the Court adjourned. For plaintiff, Messrs. Chatfield & Brown; for defendant, Ex-Recorder James M. Smith.

Mr. Justice Mason, at present holding the Supreme Court Circuit, Part II., in this City, yesterday rendered an important decision in regard to the liability of the Croton Aqueduct Board to pay inspectors, laborers, &c., for services performed under what is called the McCool & Warnock Contract in the repairing of streets. The judgment is for the plaintiff, with costs, and although for a comparatively small amount, it is important when it is considered that there are several hundred other employes under the same contract, awaiting the result of this suit of Eagan against the City.

Superintendent Kennedy has issued an order to the Captains of Police, directing them to make a report of every place in their respective precincts where intoxicating liquors are sold, giving full and particular description of the conduct of each. Lord, of the Sanitary Police, reports that during the week ending yesterday he received 728 complaints of nuisances, served 780 notices for abatement, cleaned 353 sinks, and removed 1,585 loads of night soil, 157 dead animals, and 30,580 pounds of unsound meat and fish from the City limits.

Exchange on London advanced to 107⅞@108 yesterday afternoon; Gold 126¼ ₱ cent.; a considerable business in Exchange for the steamer Cuba sailing to-day. The Railways active; prices feverish; Eries 75 in the afternoon; Money easy; Government Securities in demand at full rates.

An active demand, partly speculative, prevailed yesterday for the leading kinds of Breadstuffs at decidedly higher prices. In most other articles transactions were restricted and prices irregular. Freights were quiet.

The whole number of beef cattle received for the week, at all the cattle-yards, and those driven direct to butchers, is 5,586, against 3,933 the week previous. Over 200 fresh cattle were received on Tuesday, which were all sold in a short time. The demand is good, prices firm, and the quality of the animals, for the most part, rather superior, yet beef did not sell for any more per lb. this week than last. The highest price paid for the best beeves was 18c., and the lowest, 12½c. The market opened brisk and closed firm. Milch cows are doing no better than for several weeks past. The arrivals are light, numbering only 97, against 118 the previous week. The poorest sell for about $30 per head, and the very best about $100. Transactions in calves are moderate, arrivals heavy, and prices easy and tending downward. The very best have sold for 12c., yet most of those common to good were disposed of for 10c. ₱ lb., live weight. Many were sold for 6c.@7c. ₱ lb. Sheep are doing better. The market is brisk, and prices firm at 7c.@9c. ₱ lb., live weight, for good sheep, not sheared, and 5½c.@7½c. clipped. Early lambs are in good request. The receipts are 14,128, against 13,719 for the week previous. The number of swine received was 10,405, against 7,380 last week. Trade is active. Swine sell readily, as fast as they arrive, at 10¼c.@10½c. ₱ lb., live weight, and 12½c. ₱ lb., dressed, for heavy Western corn-fed.

An Interesting Matter for Inquiry.—Hon. Wm. L. Sharkey, of Mississippi, who, having occupied the highest judicial position in the State of Mississippi, having acted as Provisional Governor, and being now Senator-elect, may be supposed to be at once thoroughly informed as to that of which he testifies, and anxious to give his testimony honestly and in good faith, made some very remarkable statements before the Reconstruction Committee concerning the negroes of Mississippi. "There are now in the State," said he, "very little over one-half as many freedmen as there were formerly slaves." "There is no telling," he continued, "the mortality that has prevailed among them. They have died in immense numbers." And he concluded his testimony by remarking: "My expectation concerning them is that they are destined to extinction beyond a doubt. We must judge of the future by the past; and I could tell you a great many circumstances to that effect." As to Judge Sharkey's speculations on the future of the negro we say nothing at this moment; but we believe he is right in what he says as to the vast numbers of blacks that have perished in the last five years. The scenes at the various places of negro rendezvous on the Mississippi River during the war, were simply shocking; and no one who had an opportunity of witnessing them, will doubt hardly any statement of the numbers who died. Our own columns at the time contained remarks calling attention to this subject; but alas! what could then be done?

Judge Sharkey declares his opinion "that there are very little over one-half as many freedmen now in Mississippi, as there were formerly slaves." This is appalling, if true. By last census there were somewhat over 436,000 slaves in Mississippi, and the Judge's estimate would allow for the perishing of 218,000 of these! His estimate may, perhaps, be somewhat modified when it is considered that many Mississippi negroes went north to Tennessee, and south to Louisiana, during the war, and also that we have over ten thousand able-bodied negroes of that State now in our service as soldiers. But even allowing for considerations of this kind, we must regard the statement as very painfully suggestive. We should like very much if some means could be devised for taking, as soon as possible, a census of the Southern States, that we might learn the precise population, white and black, left after the great war.

The Temper of the South—Mr. Stephens' Testimony.

Mr. Alex. H. Stephens' testimony before the Reconstruction Committee is described in the Washington correspondence of a cotemporary as "the most damaging to the South yet brought out." We have looked through the evidence, as reported by the Committee, without finding anything in the tone, form or substance of his statements to sustain such an impression. So far from being "damaging to the South," we are under the impression that the facts and opinions communicated by the distinguished Georgian are as favorable as any reasonable man could desire them to be; while they reflect credit upon the candor and modest manliness of the witness.

Much of course depends upon the expectations with which we start upon the inquiry. If the view we take requires on the part of the Southern people not only acquiescence in the results of the war, but gladness that these results are not other than they are; if we assume that to prove their recognition of the Federal authority, and their loyalty to the Constitution and the Union, they must extol the agents and the means by which their rebellion was overcome; if we insist that their duty is, not to regard the people of the loyal States as fellow-citizens, equals before the law, but as superiors to be abjectly obeyed; if these are the ideas with which we set out in the examination of such a man as Mr. Stephens, then undoubtedly we shall rise from the task with the disgust which evidently inspired the Tribune's dispatch. But all expectations and demands of this nature are in our judgment unjustifiable. Instead of calling upon the Southern people to glorify the men and the power that smote them, vanquished them and punished them in the manner incident to war, we should doubt their sincerity and despise their spirit were they willing to do this thing. Grant, and Sherman, and Sheridan, and Meade, and Thomas have never been known to disparage the pluck or endurance of their adversaries on the battle-field; and to-day these heroes of the Union army bear no ungrudging testimony to the quality of the rebel soldiers. So we prefer to have the South putting forward its claims to constitutional rights, rather than meanly accepting every condition proposed to it. Defeat should not entail forfeiture of self-respect; and that the South continues to respect itself, despite its disasters, is to our mind one of the strongest proofs of its fitness for restoration to the full privileges of the Union.

True, Mr. Stephens says that his opinions, and the opinions of the South generally, on the abstract question of State sovereignty, have undergone no change. Why should they? The sword cannot cut down opinions, though it prevents their application, as in the case of the rebellion. The North has decided that there shall be no secession; the South, having tried to secede and failed, submits to the decision and accepts its consequences. What more can we ask? Are we to exact not only submission to our authority, but agreement with our opinions? Are we to set up certain extra constitutional formularies of political faith, and to decree the civil and political damnation of all who refuse to subscribe to them? We may produce hypocrites by this process, but truly loyal citizens, never. It is enough for the present purposes of the country that the South emerges from the struggle convinced of the futility of the plans and hopes with which it started five years ago; convinced, too, that its interest is to be found in a hearty, unwavering and unreserved acknowledgment of the Union, its authority and its claims—in an early adaptation of its industrial relations to the change produced by the abolition of Slavery—and in the abandonment, utterly and forever, of all thoughts of agitation, except as it may be carried on within the limits of law, and by means known to the Constitution. On these points we consider Mr. Stephens' exposition of the feeling predominant in Georgia eminently satisfactory. And in some of the more important of his statements he is justified by acts of the State Legislature in matters relating to the freedmen.

Nor can we trace any sign of inherent hostility to the negro in other than strictly civil relations. "Individually," Mr. Stephens is reported to have said, "I should not be opposed to a proper system of restricted or limited suffrage to this class of our population." Beyond this, what could we of New-York ask? A "restricted or limited suffrage" is all our own State concedes to its negro population; shall Mr. Stephens be quarreled with because he is not willing to go further? He is averse, moreover, to any action upon the subject except by the Southern States themselves. "In my judgment," are his words, "it is a matter that belongs of constitutional right to the States to regulate exclusively each for itself." Well, New-York also holds this view. So does Connecticut and the North generally. Why may not Georgia cherish it as well as they?

Is there anything "damaging to the South," then, in Mr. Stephens' declaration, that it will not yield to negro suffrage or other amendments of the Constitution, as conditions precedent of readmission to Congress? We think not. If the South, never having been out of the Union, is in the Union now, its title to a place in Congress is indisputable, subject only to the judgment of each House on the qualifications of its Representatives, individually considered. And what the South is entitled to, of right, ought not to be encumbered with any conditions whatsoever. To talk of conditions-precedent in the premises, is to convey the idea of a bargain, which Congress may or may not conclude, according to its pleasure. He must be morbidly sensitive who objects to the courteous temper in which Mr. Stephens intimates that the South will prefer an indefinite exclusion from Congress, to admission purchased by the surrender of a constitutional right.

In two sentences Mr. Stephens presents the logical change of position should the North continue to insist upon conditions which exclude the South from Congress. "The Southern States would thus present themselves as willing for immediate union under the Constitution, while it would be the Northern States opposed to it. The former disunionists would thereby become Unionists, and the former [Unionists] practical disunionists." The possible dilemma is worth thinking about a little in advance.

The Maine Frontier.

The judgment of all sensible people will approve the course of the Government in making no more than is necessary of the farcical proceedings on the Maine frontier, at and around Eastport. Madmen and ordinary law-breakers are taken care of by the police. Military service involves a higher range and a broader scope of duty. We are, therefore, inclined to doubt the report that Gen. Meade's reported visit to New-England has any connection with the Fenians or their movements. The United States civil officers in the Customs, and attached to the Federal courts, not only know what their duty is if any raid or plundering expedition from a United States port should be attempted, but they will faithfully and promptly perform it in any case of need. The good faith of the Government requires no defence, because it has not—so far as we are aware—been called in question. We shall not under any circumstances be tempted to follow the bad example of the Provincial Justices while rebellion was in progress here. No United States judicial officer could be made the instrument for shielding bank-robbers and cut-throats, on the plea that their offences were merely political. And if there be any engaged seriously (which is more than doubtful) in this so-called invasion, they do well to remember two things: first, that if they are caught violating the neutrality laws, or any other laws, on American territory, they will be promptly punished; and, next, that if they are caught in any plundering enterprise over the line, they will be summarily hung under British military law.

In any case they will find it much more profitable and much more cheap to proceed with their antics within sight of Union-square than in a neighborhood where they come under the cognizance of United States Marshals, and may get into the hands of the British hangmen. An abatement of the nuisance will save trouble to all concerned. Every honest man of intelligence among us is tired of it—none more so than the large body of noble-hearted, industrious Irishmen and women, who think more of Ireland and do more for Ireland than all the Fenian rapscallions from Cork to Chicago would or could do in the next thousand years.

The New Excise Law of New-York.—This measure, constituting, as it may be made to constitute, a powerful engine for reforming very much that has been wretchedly and defiantly vile in our City, has passed the Legislature, and the Police are at once proceeding to act upon it. The Captains of the various precincts are to report, on or before the 28th inst., full particulars of every place where intoxicating liquors are sold, and the character of such place, the nature of its business, whether it sells liquor at unlawful seasons, whether it has female attendants, and, in short, any other particular of interest to a community of respectable people. We need not here enlarge upon the extent and significance of such an inquiry. That it will bring into view many new facts is not to be supposed. The miserable dens where every vice is practiced are already known to the police, and the more costly resorts of giddy young men and vicious old ones have long been looked upon with sorrow by every well-wisher of humanity. The Board of Health, in seeking power to control these corrupting influences, no doubt were well aware of the greatness of the task they would have to perform, and there is no reason for any apprehension that they will not set about it with courage. If they are also careful and discreet, they will undoubtedly render a great service to the City.

The intention of the new act is not to commence the enforcement of a quasi Maine Law in New-York. No such attempt could succeed were it attempted. The objects in view are, on the contrary, to recognize, so far as the granting of licenses is a recognition, the trade of liquor-dealing, but in responsible and respectable hands. At present, while a large number of well-conducted houses exist, where order and decency are carefully observed, and which pay their share toward the support of the Government, there are thousands of stores, so-called, which neither thus contribute, nor have any observances save those of riot and licentiousness. These latter are to be checked, and by that check honorable dealers will be known as such, while dishonorable dealers will not longer remain.

There has been much argument for and against the bill. We need not give the arguments of its friends. But those of its enemies are worth a passing notice. They claimed that it was an interference with vested interests and local rights—as if any person could have a vested interest or local right in the corruption of public morals. They asserted, moreover, that the principle of democratic self-government was infringed—and they forgot to say in what respect. New-York is a City, the corrupt governing influences of which have long been a disgrace to us Americans. There was self-government and it was abused. There is still self-government, but the hope of purification lies in its extension. The people of the State of New-York—the sovereign State—wills that the section called New-York City shall not persistently cause reproach upon their good name. Is that centralization which takes from the corrupt few dangerous powers and gives them to the many? We think not. There is an apropos lesson on the subject. Mr. John Stuart Mill, certainly no false prophet, is the teacher. He proposes to take from the hole-and-corner vestries of the City of London their privileges, or rather to place the control thereof in the hands of the body of the people as represented in Parliament. The case is precisely similar to the condition of affairs with our own City. New-York has been practically managed by a parish vestry of obscure but wealthy men. The Parliament of Albany proposes to relieve them of their responsibilities and let the citizens feel that they are citizens of the whole State, and as such worthy of consideration. On the whole the prospect, therefore, looks cheerful, and will continue so if, as we said before, the Board of Health are as discreet as we are persuaded they will be honest and zealous.

The Strike—The Companies' Defence.—The strike continues. The Railway Companies still refuse the advance asked by the drivers. A momentary truce, yesterday, between the Third-avenue managers and a portion of their employes, is all the indication we have, as yet, that a compromise is any longer possible. That truce was broken almost as soon as it was made. And without undertaking to decide where the blame rested in that special case, we have to invite attention anew to the fact that the public are still practically deprived of the only means of intramural conveyance on which they have been taught to rely.

We give place in another column to the most ingenious and labored defence hitherto put forward on behalf of the Companies. But that defence fails to cover the ground:

First, that after six days' exertion, with more than half the police force of the City at their call, the Companies have not yet got drivers enough to run one-fifth of the number of cars requisite for even the limited accommodation our citizens were accustomed to before the strike.

Second, that those of them that have been making money cannot plead that the drivers' demands are unreasonable.

Third, that no comparison can justly be established between the wages paid to carters in the employment of mercantile houses and the drivers of cars—the number of hours constituting a day in the two cases being so entirely different.

Fourth, that until some system of contracts between the employers and the employed on the City Railroads is established, the public ought not to be subjected to this intolerable grievance of having City travel interrupted—without a moment's notice—on any plea whatever.

We have said time and again, that the Company have the right to say what wages they can afford to pay; but they have not the right to use the police force of the City as they have been doing, while they are affording no sort of accommodation to the public in the running of their cars.

The only sort of valid argument that the Companies can put forward in extenuation of their decision to refuse a compliance with the demands of their employes, is that they are themselves limited as to their charges upon the public. And we have no hesitation in saying that there is no such cheap riding in the world as that between the Battery and Harlem, or even that between the Battery and Central Park. What we demand and what the public demand is, that the cars shall be run.

The Collector.—The appointment of Mr. Henry A. Smythe as Collector of the port of New-York not only ends "a long agony," but seems to have ended it auspiciously. Mr. Smythe's appointment is well received by the Press and by our citizens generally. The new Collector, therefore, will enter upon the discharge of his highly responsible duties with these advantages, to which may be added a good commercial and financial record.

Mr. Smythe, like most of our successful merchants, is a self-made man. He has been long associated with our largest and best commercial houses, and is now at the head of one of our principal National Banks. He is indebted for his appointment to his high personal character, and to a desire, on the part of the President, to meet the views of that numerous and influential class most interested in the proper discharge of the duties of the office.

We have desired and expected an appointment from the list of candidates of some one more prominently and immediately associated with the Union Party, whose name would reassure our friends of the President's devotion to their cause. But though in this respect we are disappointed, we are not without assurances—explicit and unequivocal—in all that the most earnest Republican can desire, of the President's firm and unchangeable adherence to the principles, sentiments and sympathies which actuated and governed him throughout the rebellion. He will not and cannot by injustice, misrepresentation or misapprehension, be driven from his party or his friends. His convictions of duty are clear and strong. He is devoted to the Union and to the true welfare and prosperity of the whole country. He is a man of abiding faith in the strength of our institutions, and in the good sense and patriotism of the people. We know that he was actuated by the best motives in this appointment—the importance and significance of which he comprehends perfectly—and we are prepared to find, what we hope may be realized, that it may turn out as well, or better, than that which we favored.

Mr. Smythe received the office from the President himself, and is free from all "entangling alliances." He is perfectly independent, and will act upon his own judgment and convictions. That he is sound and patriotic we are assured, and hence we cheerfully acquiesce in the appointment.

Big Business in Cotton.—The shipments of Cotton from this port, exclusively, during the week ending last evening, were to the unusually heavy amount of 21,100 bales, of the currency value of $3,697,518; including, to Liverpool, 18,586 bales, valued at $3,299,482; to Hamburg, 1,101 bales, valued at $184,314; to Bremen, 920 bales, valued at $139,506; to Havre, 485 bales, valued at $72,498; and to Tarragona, 8 bales, valued at $1,718. The total of the preceding week's exports was 20,142 bales, making the fortnight's shipments hence 41,242 bales, or an average of 3,437 bales for each business day. Since the commencement of the current Cotton Year, Sept. 1, 1865, there have been received at this port 711,857 bales, or a weekly average of 21,571 bales; and exported from the port, 394,538 bales, or an average of 11,956 bales a week. On the basis of even the reduced average value of each bale exported during the week, the shipments of Cotton from this port in the thirty-three weeks since Sept. 1, 1865, have been equal to nearly seventy million dollars.

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL.

Two City Railroad Bills Killed—The Cross-Town Road Gone Under—The Underground Road Gone Up—Probable Failure of all the City Railroad Projects—Progress of the New-York City Tax Levy.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Albany, Tuesday, April 17.

The Senate got into a sanguinary mood this afternoon, and after considerable debate, slaughtered two New-York City railroad bills. The Christopher-street Cross-town Road, which was reported favorably by a majority of the Railroad Committee, was defeated on the motion to order the bill to a third reading by the following vote:

Ayes—Messrs. Andrews, Barnett, Chambers, Collins, C. G. Cornell, Godard, Humphrey, Kline, Parsons, Platt, Stanford, Sutherland, Williams—13.

Nays—Messrs. Campbell, E. Cornell, Crowley, Folger, Gibson, Hay, LaBau, Lent, Low, H. C. Murphy, T. Murphy, O'Donnell, Pierson, Sessions, Wilber, Walcott, Wood—17.

Mr. Lent, who admitted, during the debate, that there was a great necessity for crosstown roads, but who desired to get in an amendment making the Corporation pay $500,000 into the City Treasury, moved to reconsider the vote. The motion was, however, lost, 14 to 16, thus killing the bill beyond all resurrection.

Judge Low moved to order the Underground Railroad Bill to a third reading, which was lost as follows:

Ayes.—Messrs. Campbell, Gibson, Godard, Hoyt, Low, O'Donnell, Platt, Sessions, Wilbur—9.

Nays.—Messrs. Andrews, Barnett, Chambers, Collins, C. G. Cornell, E. Cornell, Crowly, Folger, Humphrey, Kline, La Bau, Lent, H. C. Murphy, T. Murphy, Parsons, Peirson, Stanford, Sutherland, Williams, Wolcott, Wood—21.

These votes are understood to foreshadow the defeat of the whole batch of New-York railroad bills. An extraordinary change has taken place in the Senate within a few days past. One week ago there was a majority in favor of some of these schemes, but the prospect now is that there will be no relief for Broadway, and that the whole subject must again occupy the time of the next Legislature.

The Assembly has been occupied till a late hour to-night in perfecting the City Tax Levy. Mr. Pitts, of Orleans, the champion of the Citizens' Association, made numerous motions to strike out items reported by the committee, which were uniformly voted down. $25,000 was voted to erect a monument to soldiers fallen in the war for the Union, in Greenwood Cemetery.

The bill for the compilation of Corporation Manual was allowed on the strength of a telegram from Mayor Hoffman that it was all right.

The Tribune association came in for an item of $2,800 for printing for one of the departments. The bill was finally ordered to a third reading; and will probably go to the Senate to-morrow.

The Liberal Government to be Established at Chihuahua—Mendez Defeated by the Liberals.

San Francisco, Sunday, April 15.

Consul Godey has received a letter from Juarez dated El Paso, March 9, stating that the troops sent to Chihuahua would occupy that place, and in eight days from that date the Liberal Government would be established there.

A letter from Gen. Alvaredo fully confirms the defeat of Mendez by the Liberals at Urdapan. The Constitutional Governors of Chihuahua and Tabasco give official notice that those States are now peacefully under the Liberal rule.

Military operations are being carried on throughout Oaxac.

A Passage at Arms in the House—Bruner's Trial Resumed—Resignation of Col. J. F. Rustling.

Nashville, Tuesday, April 17.

There was a passage at arms in the House today, between M. Woodruff, editor of the Union, and Gen. J. P. Brownlow, the latter denouncing Woodruff in the strongest sterms. Pistols were drawn, but the parties were finally separated.

The trial of Bruner has been resumed. Bruner's counsel objected to indefinite specifications: as to time and place. The Court overruled the objections.

Col. J. F. Rustling, formerly Chief Assistant Quartermaster, Department of the Cumberland, has resigned, and will soon leave for the North.

Our New Collector.

The new Collector, Mr. SMYTHE, came on from Washington Monday night, to prepare for an early entrance upon his new duties. On the train were the friends of various candidates, and two of his unsuccessful competitors; but it would have been difficult to infer from aught that was said, looked or done, which were the "ins" and which the "outs." It is understood that before Mr. SMYTHE left Washington a free interchange of views and feelings was had by the President, sundry prominent men and Mr. SMYTHE, the result of which would be by no means relished in either of the hostile camps. As a friend as well as an appointee of the President, he will, it is believed, conduct the organization of the Custom-house, and will frown upon any attempt to embarrass the action of the Executive therefrom.

Mr. SMYTHE's first day in the City after his appointment undoubtedly convinced him that uneasy is the head which is about to wear a crown. He never knew before that he was so popular, or that so many of his dearest friends were eminently qualified to be deputies and revenue officers.

There will be nothing done in the way of filing bonds or of business until the Senate have acted. If Mr. SMYTHE is confirmed, he will at once produce his bondsmen and relieve Mr. CLINCH. It is erroneously believed by many that Messrs. BLATCHFORD and KERRIGAN, who were Mr. KING's bondsmen, are still liable. This absurdity is patent after reading the text, which binds them to accountability for the acts of PRESTON KING, and of him alone. Whether, under the peculiar wording of the law of 1799, Mr. KING's estate may or may not be liable is quite another matter. It has been suggested that Mr. H. B. CLAFLIN will be one of Mr. SMYTHE's bondsmen. Mr. CLAFLIN is a large importer, and it is said on the other hand that the Collector will not care to embarrass himself by having as bondsman one against whom he may at some future time be compelled to decide; nor to rest under the imputation of yielding to the arguments of a claimant too readily, because he is his bondsman. It is not probable then that the bondsmen will be selected from that class of men. Mr. KERRIGAN is Mr. SMYTHE's personal friend, and it is reported that the Collector would be glad to avail himself of his bond. But rumors are ever thick when facts are undeveloped, and until the confirmation is announced nothing will be made public.

The Custom-house clerks, upper and under, are in a feverish atmosphere, knowing nothing about the politics or the preferences of the coming man, they are wonderfully reticent on all political subjects. They one and all regard Mr. SMYTHE, as the "very best selection that could have been made, because," &c., &c. They are curious concerning his biography, and would give considerable if they had always been depositors in his bank. They look longingly at their old letters of recommendation, doubting whether the support which secured them appointment before might not entail disappointment now, and so as the hours pass slowly on, troubles and care, vexations and fear fret them.

So far as we have observed the business and financial interests are gratified by the selection. The banks and heavier merchants, among whom Mr. SMYTHE's maturer life has been spent, cordially indorsed his application, and enthusiastically welcome him. What the newspapers and politicians think, it is difficult to tell; they may say one thing and mean another, but thus far a candid recognition of Mr. SMYTHE's ability prevails—a desire to support and assist him is apparent in every circle.

We append a brief biographical sketch of Mr. SMYTHE, written by a personal friend, which will be read with interest:

"The appointment of HENRY A. SMYTHE, Esq., as Collector of the Port of New-York, is one of those fortunate selections of the President that will be hailed with gratification by our citizens generally, and more especially by our great mercantile interests, with which he has been so long a prominent and popular member. It will also be regarded with satisfaction by the earnest and sincere friends of the President, who has no more firmer and few abler supporters than Mr. SMYTHE.

To those unacquainted with the subject of this notice, we would say that he is a native of this State, and springs from a good old stock and an excellent family. He was born in the year 1819, in the town of Hobart, Delaware County. His father was a popular and able lawyer of that county, and his maternal grandfather was Hon. ANTHONY MARVINE, who represented the Delaware District in Congress for several years. Mr. SMYTHE, having secured a thorough academical education, at an early day forsook his native hills in the interior of the State, determined upon the more active life as a merchant in this great metropolis. He commenced his business career here in the year 1836, finding employment in one of our first commercial jobbing houses, where he remained for some time as a fellow-clerk with the writer of this notice, acquiring the first rudiments of a mercantile education. In 1846 he joined as partner the large Boston house of FRANCIS SKINNER & Co., opening the first "Branch" in this City of those stupendous Eastern manufacturing company's agencies, pioneering a business which has since grown into such huge proportions. He remained with this firm until the year 1857, at which time he became the head of the large and eminently successful one of SMYTHE, SPRAGUE & COOPER. As his position indicated, he was the leading business partner of the house, which was most profitably conducted through all the dangerous reefs and quicksands of commercial trials surrounding this class during the whole period from 1857 to 1864. During this latter year he withdrew from a firm through which he had gained a most enviable position in our business community as a man of probity and honor, to accept of the more difficult and responsible position of President of the Central National Bank of this City—unanimously tendered to him—and which position he now holds.

The ability with which this institution has been managed—its great success as a banking institution—the high position it has thus early secured, mainly through the sound judgment, businesss experience, administrative ability, and what is known as "tact" of its presiding officer, is well known to all—the Bank having, at this time, a larger average line of deposits than any other in the City. Mr. SMYTHE is a close observer and an excellent judge of character, in which in fact he seldom errs. Honorable and truthful in his own conduct and actions, he demands a high standard of moral qualifications in others before they find favor in his eyes. Stern and unyielding in his views of right, yet he is one of the most benevolent and kind-hearted of men. Socially, he is also one of the most genial characters to be met with, which never leads him, however, into the betrayal of a duty. Possessed of characteristics which peculiarly fit him for the important post the President has been pleased to call him, we predict for him a degree of popularity in conducting the affairs of that intricate department of the Government, seldom, if ever, obtained by any of his predecessors.

The merchant in him will find a fair interpreter of the law—the Government a safe depository of its important trusts. G. F. T."

The Brooklyn Philharmonic.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, April 17, 1866.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In a criticism of the last Brooklyn Philharmonic Concert, which appeared in your issue of Monday, there are misstatements reflecting upon CHICKERING & SONS, which we trust you will have the fairness to correct.

The following is the paragraph containing the misstatement. Speaking of Mlle. POCH, it says:

"In the second part she sang a bolero, (from 'I Vespri Siciliani,') and in response to a half-and-half encore, gave a brilliant feu de joie of vocalistic execution which brought down the house. She was accompanied by Sig. ABELLA on a magnificent Steinway grand, whose tone was worthy of its maker's reputation. In this connection it occurs to us to inquire why it is that the programme should invariably announce, when no piano music is on the bill, that 'the piano-forte used on this occasion is from the celebrated manufactory of CHICKERING & SONS?' Ordinarily there is no occasion for a piano, but it makes no difference, the announcement appears all the same. By the merest chance Mr. BERGMANN secured a Steinway on the afternoon of the concert, so that Mlle. POCH might be suitably provided in case of an encore, so that the announcement on the programme is divested of its simple silliness, and assumes the pleasant phase of falsehood. In these days of progress no one doubts that the manufactory of Messrs. CHICKERING & SONS is 'celebrated;' it is deservedly so. But we doubt if the interests of the firm are in any great degree advanced by such apparent and ill-advised partisanship as is manifested by the concoctor of the Philharmonic programmes. However, the piano was a grand one, and on this occasion was from the 'celebrated factory of Messrs.' STEINWAY & SONS."

It often happens at first-class concerts when vocalists are accompanied by the orchestra, that on responding to an encore they sing to piano accompaniment only. A piano, therefore, is generally provided. In such cases it is customary to place the name of the maker of the piano chosen, on the programmes. This was the case on Saturday last. The directors of the Brooklyn Philharmonic Society requested us to furnish a grand piano for the concert at the Academy of Music on Saturday evening, and we sent one there in accordance with their request. Mr. CARL BERGMANN, however, "by chance" (?) sent for another instrument, which is the only evidence of partisanship in the transaction.

Mr. BERGMANN refused an encore to Mlle. TOEDT, which the public strenuously demanded, and allowed Mlle. POCH to sing again, although there was only "a half-and-half encore," according to your critic, for the purpose, as it seemed, of giving an appearance to the instrument which he had smuggled into the Academy "by chance."

The "partisanship" is clearly between Mr. BERGMANN, your critic and their friend, the manufacturer. Mr. BERGMANN furnished the opportunity, in a way possibly neither straightforward nor honorable, which your critic took advantage of to serve the business interests of his friends.

We do not object to this instance of disinterested friendship; but we do complain that facts are distorted to our disadvantage, and made to serve as a handle for the laudation of other parties.

Car Drivers' Strike.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

There has been a great deal of sympathy expressed by the City Press for the drivers who have refused to work at the wages offered and heretofore paid by the City Railroads. But is not that sympathy based more on the general hostility to the companies than any real attempt at oppression on their part? It is true that these companies use the streets for their rails, but it is also true that they are under heavy expense in constant repairs of the pavement of those streets, and pay to the City a tax of $50 for every car they run, and on their capital stock, "watered" or unadulterated, at its par value. If the drivers of the omnibuses, who receive $1 75 per day, were to strike, would there be the same hostility manifested? And yet the omnibuses pay nothing to the City but a small license fee. The City of New-York is the great centre of industry, and here, if anywhere in the world, there should be a Free Trade in labor. Each employer should be allowed to make his own bargain and each employe to work at his own price. All combinations to fix the price of labor are unnatural, indefensible, and only sanctioned by usage. It may be said that without these combinations of workmen capital would fix the price of labor. It may be answered that labor fixes its own price, with or without these organizations. When it is scarce, as was the case when half a million of people were in arms, a few months since, and were consumers and not producers, labor commands high wages. When it is plenty, as it is growing, now, and will continue to grow, under immense emigration, and, perhaps, less prosperous times, the wages of labor will fall.

These rules are as inevitable as the ebb and flow of the tide. The railroads insist that they can employ all the men they need at $2 per day, $60 per month, or $730 per year, steady pay, in all weather. They assert that they are pressed and importuned incessantly, by all kinds of influence, political and personal, for appointments at these prices, and that it is a few factious spirits that incite the others to refuse this price and seek to force them to pay more and to prevent others from working. That the body of their drivers were never discontented with their work or wages until manipulated by these leaders and forced by pledges to resist. They claim that the reliance of these strikers is on the bodily fear and coercion exercised on drivers who are willing to work, not merely on the lines of the roads, but when going to, returning from and at their homes, and that their men have been in many cases threatened, and in several cases beaten for merely exercising the privilege of every freeman to earn his bread by his labor and to fix the price of that labor for himself and not at the tariff decreed by a self-constituted organization called a "Car Drivers' Association."

The propriety of a Freedmen's Bureau at the South is discussed, and the people rebel at the action of a Bureau which fixes the price which is to be paid for labor; and yet here we have these self-constituted Freedmen's Bureaus in New-York dictating the price of labor, and practically forbidding those so disposed to work under their terms. I assert, Mr. Editor, that this is the worst kind of tyranny, and cite a single instance to prove its effects. A few months ago the horse-shoers on the city railroads struck at the bidding of this "Council of Ten," and in this case the Horse-shoers' Association refused to use the Berdan shoe, (or machine-made shoe.) It was not that they were personally interested in the matter—for their wages were the same—but it was for the benefit of the whole trade in order to compel the manufacture of more shoes by hand. It was the flail resisting the progress of the threshing-machine, the hand-card that of the loom, or the old North River sloop attempting to expel the fleet and capacious steamer. MILEY, an honest, hard-working man, employed in the shop of one of the roads, refused to unite in the strike, and resisted the jeers of his companions and the ukase of the Horse-shoers' Association. On his way home from his work he was waylaid by BRONNAGAN, one of the strikers, and literally brained with a hammer. This occurred in the heart of the great civilized and free City of New-York. BRONNAGAN was an exception to that "orderly conduct" and freedom from "riotous proceedings" on which the Press are constantly complimenting the strikers.

Why should they not be orderly? What occasion can there possibly be for riots? Every citizen has by law the right to drive a pair of horses, and if the strikers are not disposed to work at the prices offered, let them exercise their right to refuse them, and depart in peace and seek other employ.

The railroads, I am assured, have never since this strike took place, contemplated for one moment to yield to it. If there were no other reason they cannot afford to yield the control of their roads. They knew from experience that the first exaction is the smallest, and that yielded, the same steps will always produce the like results. It is not their desire to obstruct travel or lose their traffic, or waste their money; but it is their duty to show that they will not yield whenever their most vulnerable point is assailed. The strikers know they will have a large class of the people with them who would prefer the Companies should pay their drivers even $5 per day rather than lose one ride or take one involuntary walk.

But the wages of drivers are higher in proportion than those of similar positions of heavy labor. Messrs. A. T. STEWART & Co. and CLAFLIN & Co. (a fair type of heavy mercantile interests, and who probably pay as well as any firms) pay their store porters $10 and $12 per week. Truck drivers earn $10 and $12 per week for heavy work on hogsheads of sugar and barrels of pork and flour, &c. Provision packers and porters receive the same. Express drivers receive from $40 to $50 per month. Hack drivers earn $10 per week, and have to be out four nights in the week until 2 or 3 o'clock A. M., and must be on hand at 7 o'clock. Many of these do not work on Sundays, it is true, but they receive the above sums for a full week's work, out of which their families (where they have any) are to be maintained. If any of these hard working classes were to strike we should hear little of it except in private circles, but any strike on a City railroad has been so heralded and made famous by the Press (aside from its attendant inconvenience to the public) as to render it incumbent on the managers of the roads, at any loss, to sustain their position and maintain their right to employ labor at its fair market price, and to have it protected while so employed. Let these men who refuse to work for $2 per day leave and seek for more elsewhere, instead of haunting the scenes of their former usefulness, and leave their successors undeterred to fill their places, and there will be no need of Police to protect them, or legislation by the Common Council to expedite the running of the full compliment of cars. ***

THE NEW LIQUOR LAW.

The Bill as it Finally Passed—To Take Effect on the First of May.

An incorrect copy of the new license law having been published in this City, the TIMES publishes the following, which is a copy of the law bearing Gov. FENTON's signature:

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE SALE OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS WITHIN THE METROPOLITAN POLICE DISTRICT OF THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

The People of the State of New-York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

CHRONIC CATARRH, SORE THROAT AND BRONCHIAL DISEASES.
BY H. P. DILLENBACK, M. D.,
OF BOSTON.

There are thousands in this City who are at this moment suffering from chronic catarrh and its unhappy consequences, who are not aware of the danger to which they are exposed. The symptoms of this disease are usually so mild at first as to excite little or no attention on the part of the sufferer, and thus it is allowed to pass on from one stage into another, and involving in its destructive march more and more serious results. Reader, if you would avoid the dangers of a seated consumption, do not neglect a "cold" or "catarrh in the head." That this disease is so fatal in its tendency and productive of such unhappy consequences, no one will be surprised to learn if he will but reflect that every breath of air that is inhaled into the system by those suffering from chronic catarrh must pass over an unhealthy and diseased membrane, and the air, in passing over these putrid and ulcerated surfaces, must of necessity imbibe the most noxious and deadly properties, and in this manner every breath of air you take into the lungs is converted into a poisonous agent of death. There is no disease in the entire catalogue of human ills the treatment of which has been so much neglected and perhaps so little understood as chronic catarrh, and hence, from the practice ordinarily adopted by the profession, there is little to hope.

CHRONIC SORE THROAT.

We find on examining the throats of persons who have suffered from Chronic Catarrh for any considerable length of time that the mucous membrane presents a rough and uneven surface, studded with elevated points of granulations, varying in size from a pin's head to that of a pea. These points are not unfrequently filled with puriform matter, and as the disease advances are literally destroyed by ulceration, leaving small pits or depressions upon the membrane, which can be readily seen by any one who will take the trouble to make a careful examination. This condition of the throat is known under the name of Follicular Inflammation. These mucous follicles, or small glands in the throat, in a healthy condition, secrete a bland, mucilaginous fluid, which serves to lubricate the parts and shield the membrane from the various sources of irritation to which it is constantly exposed. But when diseased, they pour out an acrid, irritating secretion, causing that incessant hemming, hawking and spitting so universally common in all persons suffering from these disagreeable maladies. And if the disease is allowed to progress, the membrane investing the vocal chords becomes thickened, the voice becomes husky and loses its natural ring or tone, and finally, when ulceration of the vocal chords takes place, the voice is hopelessly lost.

BRONCHITIS, BRONCHIAL CONSUMPTION.

The term Bronchitis has not unfrequently been applied to diseases of the throat. It will be seen that this is a mistaken idea, when we remember that in a former letter we described the windpipe at its entrance into the lungs as dividing into two branches. Now these branches are the beginning of the bronchial tubes, one entering the right lung, the other the left; and each subdivides into innumerable smaller tubes, not unlike the branches of a tree. When we speak of bronchitis, therefore, we speak of a disease located in the lungs, and not in the throat, as has been too commonly supposed. There are various forms of bronchitis, which we have neither time nor space to discuss. Suffice it to say that bronchitis consists essentially of an inflammation of the membrane lining the bronchial tubes, or air pipes leading into the lungs.

Few persons seem to realize the importance of early attention to these difficulties. They think so long as they can attend to their business, go about and feel comfortable, that all is well. They try to console themselves with the idea that the irritation is only in the throat—their cough, hoarseness and other unpleasant symptoms are only the result of a slight cold, and will soon pass off, and thus they neglect themselves from day to day, ever hoping that they will grow better, while the disease, by stealthy steps, is making deeper and deeper inroads upon the system. It would be a mere waste of time to enumerate the list of remedies that have been introduced and administered through the stomach for the cure of these affections; and so far from attaining any good results, they have, in most instances, it is to be feared, aggravated the very symptoms they were intended to relieve. Since the gratifying and successful results of my treatment by Inhalation have become so widely known and appreciated, quacks have sprung up here and there, like exhalations out of the ground, each professing to have made some wonderful discovery in the cure of Catarrh, Deafness, and other complaints too numerous to mention. The afflicted should beware how they tamper with these medical pretenders.

From extensive observation and experience, and from having made this department of medicine an object of special attention for the past twenty years, we feel amply justified in the remark that inhalation is the patient's only safe and reliable ground of hope. It is in this way only that the whole extent of the diseased surface can be reached, not only the ulcerated surfaces of the head and throat, but the entire extent of the respiratory tubes, including all the smaller air cells and sacs in the lungs, where solids or fluids cannot enter.

In this manner we have successfully combated not only chronic catarrh, sore throat, and the more deep-seated bronchial affections, but we have had the happiness of restoring to health and strength many of the most hopeless cases of consumption, when all the ordinary remedies adopted by the profession had utterly and signally failed.

Dr. Dillenback will be in New-York, Union-place Hotel, where he can be seen professionally, on Thursday, April 26, from 9 o'clock A. M. till 4 P. M., and every Thursday thereafter until further notice.

Dr. Dillenback's new work on Consumption and Diseases of the Air Passages, fully explaining his system of practice, is now ready.

FILTER THE WATER.

The Asiatic Cholera (see Tribune of July 7, 1858) "Has made its appearance in London. Its first victim attributed his fatal malady to the poisonous impurities of the Thames, on which river he was employed as a lighterman."

The Diaphragm Filter, manufactured by ALEXANDER McKENZIE & CO., No. 35 West 4th-st., near Broadway, is the kind of porous filter to which I alluded in my recent report to the Croton Board. I consider the artificial sandstone which constitutes the filtering medium to be an excellent article for the purpose. The instrument is quite durable, and only requires to be reversed occasionally to insure its action.

WINTER'S IMPROVED PORTABLE CIRCULAR SAW-MILL,
With LANE'S PATENT SET AND FEED WORKS, the simplest and most effective device known. Labor-saving and time-saving.
The entire log, of any length, instantly and unerringly set throughout by the sawyer, with a single motion of the hand.
The world challenged to produce its equal. The patentee (Mr. Lane) will wager $10,000 that the mill can be made to cut from selected timber 30,000 feet of inch boards in twelve consecutive hours. And this is by no means a limit to its capacity. What rival interest, or who else will accept? Open to all.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE TRIBUTE BOOK.
A RECORD OF THE MUNIFICENCE,
SELF-SACRIFICE, AND PATRIOTISM,
OF THE
AMERICAN PEOPLE,
IN DEFENCE OF THEIR INTEGRITY AS A NATION,
DURING THE WAR FOR THE UNION.
BY FRANK B. GOODRICH,
Author of "The Court of Napoleon," &c.

ILLUSTRATED FROM DESIGNS BY THE FOLLOWING ARTISTS:
Darley, Nast, Whitney, Cary, Hitchcock, Penn, White
Hogan, Stephens, Hennessy, Howard, Howland,
Shearman, Hochstein, Billings, Will, Hoppin, Hows, McNevin, Chapman,
McLenan, Lumley, Wand,
Eytinge, Herrick.

TRIBUTES TO THE "TRIBUTE BOOK."
The publishers have received the following:
FROM ANDREW JOHNSON, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.
"The information contained in the TRIBUTE BOOK is of great interest, and the beautiful manner in which it is bound is highly creditable to the enterprise and success of your efforts as publishers."
FROM HON. JOHN BIGELOW, UNITED STATES MINISTER IN PARIS.
"Your TRIBUTE BOOK is a beautiful and precious monument of patriotism.
"I doubt if the world has ever witnessed such a demonstration of warm-hearted devotion to country and humanity as Mr. Goodrich has so conveniently embalmed.
"It will be henceforth, I hope forever, one of the ornaments of the library of this Legation."
FROM JOHN BRIGHT, M. P.
ROCHDALE, 15th Nov., 1865.
"DEAR SIRS: I write to thank you for remembering me and for sending me your handsome work, the TRIBUTE BOOK, the great record of the wonderful doings of your people during your great struggle. I think no other nation can produce such a record of patriotic efforts and sacrifices in any cause, and it will remain forever a matter of pride for your children in future times."
FROM MRS. ABRAHAM LINCOLN, CHICAGO.
"It will always be retained and cherished in the family with grateful feelings. A faithful illustration of the generosity and gratitude of our country toward the patriotic soldiers who so nobly fought in our defence."
The New-York Evening Post says:
"It is the story of seventy millions of dollars."
The Boston Journal says:
"It is full of interest, beauty and real splendor."
The New-York Herald says:
"In many eyes the book doth share the glory."
The Philadelphia Bulletin says:
"It is absolutely magnificent."
The New-York Independent says:
"It is a volume of exceeding splendor."
The Philadelphia Telegraph says:
"It is a tribute to American generosity."
The New-York Tribune says:
"It is a romance in interest and history in facts."
The Philadelphia Inquirer says:
"It is intensely interesting and thrilling."
The Boston Traveller says:
"It defies flattery and competition."
The Philadelphia North American says:
"It gives prominence to glorious facts."
The Boston Commonwealth says:
"It is a noble roll of honor."
The Philadelphia Press says:
"It will be the literary ornament of every fireside."
The Boston Saturday Gazette says:
"It is a rare and wonderful record."
The Boston Congregationalist says:
"It is a noble testimony to Christian patriotism."
The Publishers' Circular and Literary Gazette says:
"It is a trophy of the book-making art."
The Boston Transcript says:
"It is most desirable to own and prize."
The New-York Evangelist says:
"It is well worth the price asked for it."
The New-York Observer says:
"It was fitting that the story of those who at home sustained the Government in its life-struggle should be put on lasting record. Not they only who go to the battle-field are the defenders and saviours of their country. The women and the men who give their labor, their time and their money to the cause, who work and pray and send, who think of the sick and wounded and dying, and supply the hospitals and camps with food and medicines and the bread of life, these are entitled to the grateful memories of posterity, and the hearty commendations of their compatriots. It was a happy thought to embalm these patriotic works in one magnificent volume, a record of the voluntary offerings of the American people to the cause of their beloved country in the hour of its deadly peril."
The TRIBUTE BOOK is prepared with fidelity and impartiality, and the result is honorable to the philanthropic and religious character of the people. The mechanical execution challenges criticism. A large quarto, on the purest paper, combining elegance with durability, it is in all these respects, and every other, worthy of the illustrious object it is designed to commemorate. As it is published only by subscription, we doubt not that it will for many years to come be the crowning ornament and treasure of thousands of patriotic households in our happy land, rejoicing in peace and the restoration of a disturbed and beloved union."
THE TRIBUTE BOOK contains five hundred and twenty pages royal octavo, printed on fine tinted paper, and is illustrated by one hundred and fifty engravings. It is bound in Turkey morocco, gilt edges and sides, in the best style of workmanship. The book is sold EXCLUSIVELY BY SUBSCRIPTION, at the reasonable price of TWENTY DOLLARS.

THOUSANDS ARE TIMELY SAVED BY Dr. KENNEDY'S skillful and improved treatment.—Private diseases cured in the shortest possible time by Dr. KENNEDY & CO., No. 195 Elm-st., New-York, without the use of mercury, loss of time or change of die. Dr. KENNEDY, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks, permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. KENNEDY, No. 195 Elm-st. Call, send or write.

MEDICAL AND SURGICAL CONSULTATIONS.—Dr. R. COBBETT can be consulted with the most honorable confidence on private diseases at his conveniently-arranged suite of offices, No. 20 Centre-st., between Chambers and Reade sts., having a private entrance at No. 6 City Hall-place. Strictures of the urethra, seminal weakness, nervous and general debility treated on the most scientific principles. N. B.—Dr. C.'s diplomas, in his office, as member of the New-York University Medical College, and College of Surgeons, London. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8½ P. M.

That the great superiority of these instruments is now universally conceded is abundantly proven by the fact that Messrs. Steinway's "scales, improvements and peculiarities of construction" have been copied by the great majority of the manufacturers of both hemispheres (as closely as could be done without infringement of patent rights) and that their instruments are used by the most eminent pianists of Europe and America, who prefer them for their own public and private use, whenever accessible.

STEINWAY & SONS direct special attention to their PATENT AGRAFFE ARRANGEMENT, which, having been practically tested in all their Grand and highest priced Square Pianos, and admitted to be one of the greatest improvements of modern times, will hereafter be introduced in every piano manufactured by them without increase of cost to the purchaser, in order that all their patrons may reap its benefit.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE CAR DRIVERS' STRIKE.

Some of them Resume Work, and Again Strike—New Drivers Arriving from the Country—Old Drivers Threatening Violent Measures—The Railroad Companies Persistent in their Refusal to Increase the Wages—The Police Withdrawn from the Cars—Meeting of Citizens—More about Injunctions.

The car drivers, who have been on a strike for an increase of wages since Wednesday of last week, are apparently as far from the fulfillment of their desires as they were before quitting their work. They demand two dollars and fifty cents per day for their labor, and the Directors of the various roads refuse to pay it, alleging that they cannot afford to do so. New men have been engaged to drive the cars, but the old drivers will not let them. Affairs as they now stand between the late employed and the employers promise no solution of the difficulty, but are rather tending to widen the breach between them, and to engender a state of feeling which will never permit them to enjoy the pleasant relations which previously existed. The difficulty has passed beyond the bounds of a mere strike. When the demand for an increase of pay was made by the drivers and refused by their employers, each should have been permitted to pursue his own course uninterruptedly. Such is not the case. Thousands of men are ready and eager to take the places of the strikers at the old scale of wages, but are not permitted to do so. The drivers have combined against them, and will not let them work. Yesterday many new drivers were running upon the various roads—more cars making their regular trips than on any day since the trouble began—but they were threatened with violence at almost every corner, and some were stoned while upon the cars. That the full number of cars is not running upon all the roads is due to the old drivers and not to the Companies. The men are engaged to drive them, but have encountered so many threats and so much abuse that they dare not make more than one or two trips. Some, more courageous than others, did a full day's work, running their regular trips. But these men are "spotted" by the old drivers, who tell them that they shall suffer for it. Nearly the whole police force of the City has been employed for a week guarding railroad property, and rendering safe the passage through the streets of the few cars that have been employed. The strikers will neither work themselves for two dollars per day nor permit others to do so.

Mr. DARLING, former President of the Third-avenue Road, for whom the drivers entertain the greatest regard, addressed the men on Tuesday, advising them to return to their work, intimating that when the Board of Directors met an increase of pay would be given them. Yesterday morning some one connected with the road informed the men that if they would go to work again at two dollars per day, it would be "all right the first of the month." Accepting this as a favorable answer to their demand, about forty of them went to work. The company was thus enabled to get out about one hundred cars. But one or two trips, however, had been made under this compromise, when the drivers of other roads represented to these men that it was only a dodge on the part of the company to kill the strike, and so intimidated them that they again quit work at noon. As they arrived at the depot they "tied up," and once more joined the ranks of the strikers. A few of them, who have families to support, and who had already become tired of the strike, continued to drive their cars, and promise to stick by them. Men from the country and other cities are rapidly arriving, anxious to work at the wages offering, and the companies are determined to employ them. Thirty came down from Poughkeepsie and are at work on the Second-avenue road. They drove all day yesterday, and express their determination to continue working at all hazards. Twenty men came from Albany prepared to go to work, but were met, we understand by the old drivers, who so represented matters to them and so intimidated them that they were glad to accept railroad tickets back to Albany. Every effort is being made by the drivers to deter men from taking their places, and to accomplish this object they buy up some, others they frighten, and some they have beaten. Threats were publicly made yesterday that they would pull the drivers off the cars as they passed, and throw the cars off the track. Further, that they would tear up the tracks last night, and that no car should run after dark. It is undoubtedly true that the drivers have been obliged to work too many hours for the pay they received, and in asking for an increase they have received the support of the public and the Press in a manner more cordial than was ever extended to strikers before. The violent measures to which they are resorting, however, and the inconvenience and expense they are causing the public by their dog-in-the-manger policy is gradually weaning that sympathy from them. All acknowledge their right to strike and to quit work, but do not recognize their right to dictate to the railroad companies who they shall employ and who not. There was great complaint among people generally, yesterday, at the irregularity with which the cars run, and the fault is beginning to be laid to the old drivers. The public is growing tired of the annoyance that caused it, and when people see the new drivers stoned, threatened and assailed with foul language, they lose patience, and wonder why those who are not satisfied with the wages offered by the companies don't look elsewhere for more profitable employment. Sympathy exhausts itself readily when indulged in at the expense of the other virtues. Men may think car-drivers ought to have more pay than they get, but that does not make them relish a walk to Harlem after a hard day's work. The drivers deny all that is imputed to them in the way of violence and threats, but the fact is apparent to all that it requires two-thirds of our police force to preserve order on the lines of railroad, and that not a car can be run after dark. At their meetings, too, several of their speakers have advised them to force the companies to come to terms—to displace the new drivers "peaceably if they could, forcibly if they must." It must be confessed that, as a body, the strikers have behaved well—probably no strike ever occurred wherein so many were engaged where less violence has been displayed. Unfortunately, however, the drivers have a great many injudicious friends, some of them the vilest rowdies, who live in the streets and contribute much toward interfering with the cars. For a portion of the day yesterday the policemen were withdrawn from the cars, but it was subsequently found necessary to return them to duty on the car platforms. The duty is becoming exceedingly arduous for the policemen, it being necessary to keep constantly on duty those squads which have hitherto been held in reserve, and permitted a few hours' rest. Inspector CARPENTER has charge of the force on the East-side roads, and Inspector LEONARD those on the West side of the City. It looked somewhat threatening yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of the Third-avenue depot. This place seems to be a sort of general rendezvous for the drivers, and they were assembled there yesterday in great numbers. Hearing that the forty old drivers had resumed work on the Third-avenue, about one hundred drivers from the Sixth and Eighth avenue roads, marched in procession to the depot at Sixty-fifth-street, and were quite noisy in their demonstrations, jeering those drivers who continued at work and applauding those who "tied up." For a time it was feared that serious trouble might ensue, but the crowd gradually dispersed without doing more than inducing some of the new men to stop work. A great many old drivers are heartily sick of the strike, and would at once resume work were it not that they feel it a point of honor to stand by their fellows. There is little doubt but the whole difficulty could be at once settled by the companies offering $2 25 per day for drivers. While some of the old ones would insist upon $2 50, so many of them would be willing to resume work at the former price that all would eventually yield. There is every prospect now that the companies will hold out obstinately till the last, relying upon the city authorities to protect their property, and employing new men as rapidly as possible. It is to be regretted that a spirit of concession actuates neither party. If the railroad companies are such rich monopolies as everybody says they are, they can certainly afford to pay a fair price for honest labor. The public is suffering greatly for want of its street cars, and will be sure to remember, with no pleasant feelings, the party which is wrong in the matter.

A large meeting of citizens was held last evening at Continental Hall, corner of Eighth-avenue and Thirty-fourth-street, for the purpose of expressing sympathy with the car-drivers. Large delegations of drivers were present from each one of the City railroads. A brass band was in attendance, sandwiching music with the speeches. The meeting was called to order by WM. J. O'BRIEN, who announced the object of the meeting, and in a few forcible remarks expressed his sympathy with the strike. Among the speakers was Mr. GEORGE RILEY, a conductor on the Third-avenue road, Mr. J. H. FOY, Mr. MCQUADE, Mr. PARSONS, the Rev. Dr. COX, and others. The remarks made by these gentlemen were of a nature calculated to inspire the strikers with hope that they would be successful in their present movement. Railroad companies generally were denounced as soulless monopolies, extortionists, etc. The speakers were eloquent in their remarks regarding the majesty of labor, and the laborer being worthy of his hire. They were warmly applauded throughout. Mr. MCGEE sang one or two songs which he has written in the interests of the drivers, which were appropriate to the occasion, and received rapturous applause. Mr. FOY read the dispatch from Albany announcing the passage of the bill constituting ten hours as a day's labor for conductors and drivers of horse cars. This dispatch was received in a most enthusiastic manner by the audience, and three cheers were given for Mr. JENKINS, who introduced the bill. The speaker thought that the sympathy of the public should be turned into a channel which could be rendered available, and to that end he opened a subscription list, heading it himself with a donation of $5. This practical example was speedily followed by others, and greenbacks flowed into the treasury quite briskly for some time. A policeman entered with quite a roll of bills, which he presented in the name of the patrolmen of the neighborhood. Rev. Dr. COX, a retired minister of the Presbyterian Church, who made a few very impressive remarks, was listened to with marked attention, his gray hairs and venerable appearance commanding the respect of all. Mr. PARSONS announced that several injunctions against the companies would be sued out this morning.

Mr. THEODORE TOWNSEND offered the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The prices of rent and living in this City making it imperatively necessary that the employes on our City railroad cars should receive something like a fair compensation for their labor; and,

Whereas, The different City railroad companies of the City of New-York have, in their cupidity and pride, and by their heartlessness and ungenerosity, refused to allow to the car-driver of this City a fair remuneration for their services; therefore,

Resolved, That, as citizens, we pledge ourselves to sustain the car drivers of this City in their reasonable demands.

Resolved, We pledge ourselves not to ride in any cars that do not pay their drivers the sum of two dollars and fifty cents for ten hours labor, and twenty-five cents per hour for extra work.

Resolved, That to compel these men to work more than ten hours is to degrade humanity, and is the most abject slavery by the bloated monopolists.

RIOT ON THE SECOND-AVENUE.

About 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon a riot occurred on the line of the Second-avenue, near Thirtieth-street, when a crowd of old drivers made an attack upon several cars driven by new men, and stoned the cars. Capt. WILSON and Sergt. ROBBINS, and the reserve of the Twenty-first Precinct and Inspector CARPENTER were promptly on the spot, and a brisk skirmish ensued between the Police and the strikers, in which brickbats, stones and batons were freely used, resulting in the dispersion of the rioters and the arrest of four of their number. The names of the prisoners are JAMES CONNOLLY, PETER FLOOD, PETER MIMMAN and HENRY DIXON. They were locked up in the cells of the Thirty-fifth-street Police station, and are to be examined this morning at the Fifty-seventh-street Court.

METROPOLITAN BOARD OF HEALTH.

Yorkville and Harlem Remonstrate—Adulterated Milk—Rags—Bedford Brewery—New-York Hospital—The Battery Barracks to be Secured—No Cholera—Mortuary Record.

Immediately after the reading of the minutes, at the meeting of the Metropolitan Board of Health yesterday, Judge BOSWORTH called attention to a clause of the Session Laws of 1865, under which the Board is required promptly to transmit to the Board of Supervisors minutes of its proceedings, "for publication," said the Judge, "in some newspaper, I suppose." The Board bade Secretary CLARK make such reports and send the same to the Supervisors.

COMMITTEE FROM YORKVILLE AND HARLEM.

Messrs. Horatio P. Allen, R. Ten Broeck, S. A. Thayer, R. W. Roby, Albro Howell, George W. Beale, J. Hull Browning, J. T. Smith, Thomas Rutter, and James Hogg, a committee appointed by citizens of the Twelfth and Nineteenth Wards, informed the Board that at a meeting at Miller's Hall, Eighty-sixth-street and Third-avenue, more than three hundred residents of Yorkville and Harlem unanimously resolved that they could not "see the consistency or justice of removing nuisances from one part and placing them together in another part of our City." The Committee set forth many reasons for the removal of slaughter-houses from the island, and they said: "Our section has been the most healthy and quiet part of the City, and as such we purchased property and located ourselves and families upon it. We understand that it is your intention to remove the abattoirs to a point on the East River, between Yorkville and Harlem, and we submit that if you construct abattoirs at this point, they will draw around themselves a class of persons who will become, as it were, a Chinese Wall between New-York and Harlem. We were heavily assessed for the purchase and improvement of the Central Park, and we did not murmur, because the Park enhanced the value of our dwellings. But if you establish slaughter-houses between us and the densely-populated part of the City, you will depreciate our property seriously. Besides, if you put abattoirs where you now propose, the advance of population will render their removal necessary within ten years, and we therefore ask you now to banish them from the island altogether." It was arranged that the Committee shall meet President SCHULTZ on Friday morning next, between 9 and 11 o'clock.

LACTEAL ADULTERATION.

President SCHULTZ presented Capt. BOWEN G. LORD's report of names of milkmen who, he alleges, usually adulterate their milk with water from the hydrant at the intersection of Forty-eighth-street and Lexington-avenue, the ratio of water varying between four and eight quarts to a forty quart can of milk, as follows: P. Lalor, H. Eggers, H. Simken, F. Lahey, J. H. Hange, J. Rumbell, C. Rusche, O. Cornell, A. Dun, H. Brookman, C. Theeman, W. Woodman, J. Hortsman, J. Power, H. Degner, H. Kopf, P. Kaebler, P. Leonardry, A. Belan, J. Kopf, D. Stehn, G. Eichhorn, M. Bollart, J. V. Mallon, W. B. Osborn, L. Stach, E. Koch, T. Schall, J. Feldman, J. Schloeber, J. Bourgardes, J. H. Peters, W. F. Bailey, H. Schaffer, H. Rosseau, John Radish, P. H. Wingat, H. Kopf and C. Hinzel.

RAGS.

Mr. JOHN D. BILLINGS appeared for Messrs. JAMES A. and GEORGE W. CLARK, merchants who had been ordered to remove a pile of rags from the foot of Gouverneur-street, and against whom Messrs. WEBB & BELL, their neighbors, had entered complaint because of an accumulation of rags in front of their warehouse at No. 436 Water-street. Mr. BILLINGS said that his clients purchased the rags in question about three weeks ago, after they had lain in the street for more than three months, saturated with the water which was poured on them at the time of the burning of Mr. SWEENY's rag warehouse. Having bought the rags, the Messrs. CLARK at once commenced removing them, and had already taken more than forty tons to their Water-street store. Col. BILL interrupted Mr. BILLINGS to say that the purchasers had consumed two weeks in taking away forty tons, and that they could hardly remove the remaining one hundred and sixty tons within another fortnight. President SCHULTZ, regarding the rags as an unnecessary incumbrance in a public street, was not disposed to vote the owners the extension of time for which they had petitioned, and Mr. BILLINGS submitted that his clients had found the merchandise in the street, and been reasonably diligent in removing it. After extended discussion and a tie vote, the motion of Commissioner BERGEN, that the further consideration of the subject be postponed to Friday next, prevailed. Mr. BILLINGS then informed the Board that his clients had cleared the sidewalk of the rags in front of their place in Water-street, and that Messrs. WEBB & BELL had withdrawn the complaint.

THE BEDFORD BREWERY.

Gen. LEVI S. CHATFIELD, for Mr. MALCOLM, proprietor of the Bedford Brewery, in Brooklyn, appeared to make it known that it is impracticable to put down pipes from the brewery to a street sewer, because there is no sewer. Mr. MALCOLM has therefore undertaken to excavate a vast cesspool, twenty feet in diameter by twenty feet in depth, and this he hopes will take all the waste water from his place and render it inoffensive to the neighborhood. He therefore asks the Board to recede from its order and grant him until May 1 to complete his cesspool. The City authorities have begun work on a sewer, which is to be completed to the Bedford Brewery by the middle of June. President SCHULTZ said that he had promised the complainants in this case a formal hearing in the event of granting Mr. MALCOLM one moment of time beyond that which had already been given him. After remarks by Commissioners ACTON and BERGEN, and Drs. PARKER and STONE, Judge BOSWORTH moved and the Board ordered that the order to close the brewery be suspended until next Thursday, and that in the meantime the Inspectors of the Board make a new report.

NEW-YORK HOSPITAL.

Superintendent DALTON sent in an elaborate report from Dr. HARRIS, whose substance is as follows:

DOCTOR: In compliance with your official reference of a resolution and preamble from the Board of Health, having in view a special sanitary inquiry into the hygienic condition of the New-York Hospital, I proceeded to that institution, and instituted such inquiries as were practicable, on Thursday, and to-day have completed all the investigations which are essential to the basis of a report upon the question submitted. There were 246 patients in the wards, distributed as follows: 22 in the north, 156 in the south, 60 in the main building, and 8 in the wooden pavilion. These presented the usual aspects and varieties of wounds and disease which have been found in that hospital at this period of the year in former times. No ward was overcrowded, and most of the wards were, at the time of my two visits, free from offensive odors. Though I made diligent search for any endemic disease, or any infection or contagion that in any way pertains to or inheres in the hospital or upon the hospital grounds, I gladly state that there is at present no proof that the hospital or locality is in any manner actually infected by any morbid poison or infection of disease. It is true that there is one case of erysipelas in one of the buildings; but that was the disease of the patient when admitted, day before yesterday. But I would call attention to the fact that erysipelas or other sources and kinds of morbid poisons are introduced or admitted to the hospital, under the authorization of the Governors, in their contract with the Government authorities for the treatment and care of sick and wounded seamen. The typhus and erysipelas which to-day are found in the New-York Hospital, are traceable solely to the seamen so admitted; but in the case of typhus I examined in the north building, the fever had attacked a nurse of one of the fever cases which had been admitted from the ship John Bright. This case illustrates the history of the morbid poisons or infections and contagions that find their way into the hospital. I feel compelled to present this subject in a light that may not be acceptable to all physicians; but the views I must express are those which hygiene presents and humanity and economy demand to be taken.

The medical and surgical staff of the hospital alone is competent to express a positive opinion upon the subject of the spontaneous origin of infections in the wards. In a large proportion of instances in which any kind of infection or disease has become localized, or has spread in the wards, that particular disease has been clearly traceable to a particular case that was admitted to the hospital with the malady that has thus spread to the other patients; but it should be borne in mind that this does not prove the existence of actual contagion; it merely proves the sequence of acts, and indicates the existence of some important relation between them. With that relation hygienic inquiry is most concerned. The chief causes of such localizing conditions as render the development and spread of ward epidemics probable or even possible are known. They exist in every large hospital of ordinary construction. They have always existed in the New-York Hospital, even when it was a hospital in the open fields, and in the days when that section of the City was uncrowded, and a purer atmosphere than the present surrounded the hospital grounds.

The hospital is not adequately ventilated.

To bring together at one grouping in one place, or in a place that is not selected upon sanitary grounds solely, all the hygienic and administrative conditions that are essential to the greatest possible success in the treatment of wounds and sickness in great hospitals, is a desideratum never yet attained in a great city.

Liability to infection is inevitable in all great hospitals.

The entire plan of construction of the hospital is based upon those views of convenience and economy of administration which, until recently, were always allowed to have undue weight in hospital construction. Even in the new south building, we find the closets and necessary apartments and all offices conformed to the favorite idea of a distinguished gentleman now deceased, who believed that his plan of thermal vacuum ventilation would not fail to give an abundant and perfectly-distributed supply of pure air to every part of the wards. Hence the absence of a sufficient number of windows and other means of ventilation in the hospital.

Dr. HARRIS' report, which indicates remarkable industry, was referred to Dr. STONE.

THE BATTERY BARRACKS.

President SCHULTZ asked that Superintendent DALTON be instructed to communicate with the Secretary of War with a view to securing for the use of the Board the empty barracks on the Battery, to be used by the Board in case of a pestilence, and the Board so ordered.

NO CHOLERA.

Superintendent KENNEDY, of the Metropolitan Police, handed in a dispatch which he had just received from the Thirty-fifth-street Police-station, informing him that Dr. HARRIS had made an examination of a boy who had been reported as having died of cholera, and that he had found the cause of death to have been acute disease of the brain.

MORTUARY REPORT.

Registrar HARRIS sent in the mortuary report for the week ending April 14, as follows: Deaths from zymotic (or foul air) diseases, 94; by accident or negligence, 13; from all causes, 441. Of the number 117 were men, 90 were women, 117 were boys, and 117 were girls; 281 were natives of the United States, 98 of Ireland, 38 of Germany, 9 of England, 3 of Italy, 13 of Holland, 2 of British America, 1 each of Austria, China, France, Portugal, Russia, sea, South America, Turkey and Wales, and 3 unknown. At the public institutions 79 persons died.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Judge BOSWORTH, desirous of proceeding so cautiously as to put injunctions out of the question, and make the Board's case clear and sure in every instance, offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That in all cases where the reports of Inspectors seem to render it proper that a sewer should be built, or a sewer-connection be made, or water-closets built or altered, repairs of any kind made to structures, houses, painted sunken lots filled or drained, rooms or houses ventilated, or that other similar matters should be done, the reports be at once referred, except where it already sufficiently appears in the report by the inspector, by the Superintendent to the Sanitary Engineer, and that he report the full details as to what is needed in the several cases, including the size and material of such sewer, the proper mode of construction of such water-closet, the precise nature of such repairs, the mode of ventilation to be adopted, the extent of painting required, and similar information proper in all such cases.

A letter from Supervisor STOLES, of Brooklyn, presenting certain sunken lots in the Nineteenth Ward of that city which are being filled with garbage and ashes, was placed on file.

President SCHULTZ and Commissioner BERGEN were appointed a Committee to arrange for the publication of the Health Code in two New-York journals and in one journal in Brooklyn.

Dr. WHITE, of the New-York Hospital, was appointed Inspector for the Board, to fill a vacancy.

It was ordered that the Long Island Railroad Company suspend the manure freight business until a new pier two hundred feet from their passenger depot can be built.

It having been shown that cinders from the chimney of the Carroll Manufacturing Company's works, at No. 55 Columbia-street, are a nuisance, and that a remedy may be found in the substitution of another kind of fuel, it was ordered that business be suspended until a change has been made in the fuel.

It was further ordered that the cellars of No. 43 Third-avenue, and Nos. 745 and 747 Third-avenue, be drained, and that the houses be cleansed; that No. 187 Avenue C, No. 91 East Eleventh-street, No. 184 Eldridge-street, Nos. 220, 222, 224, 226 and 228 Avenue C, and No. 200 of the same avenue, be thoroughly cleansed and whitewashed; that the sheds on the edge of Piers Nos. 1 and 2, North River, be removed; that the waste-pipes in Catharine Market be cleansed and repaired, and that the Kings County Jail-yard be cleansed and the cows removed therefrom.

The Board will take action under the License Law on Friday afternoon next, to which time it has adjourned.

Nothing new in Barley Malt. The movements in Breadstuffs, during the past fortnight, Mr. EDWARD BILL notices, thus: "There has been no material variation in the value of Flour since my last report, but as the stock of choice decreases there is more inclination to hold that description firmly. For a few days past under the prospect of moderate receipts for some months ahead, and the high rates of Wheat throughout the country, the market has assumed a more buoyant tone, and closes a trifle higher for desirable qualities, whilst for unsound prices are lower. It is as yet too early to judge correctly as to the quantity of wheat to come forward on the early resumption of canal navigation, but appearances are not favorable for large supplies of that in good shipping condition. As the stock diminishes and Flour improves, the city millers take hold more freely, and quotations show a few cents improvement. Rye is inactive, but held firmer. Oats are in fair demand at improved rates. For Indian Corn there is more inquiry, and with a better home demand, and decline in English freights, prices are better. The Export Clearances from this port for the fortnight foot up: To Great Britain and Ireland, 75 bbls. Flour, 306,436 bushels Corn, 1,596 bushels Rye, 221,190 bushels Oats; to Continental ports, 7,567 bushels Rye; to Africa, 3,520 bbls. Flour, 15,452 bushels Wheat; to South America, 3,172 bbls. Flour; to all other ports, 31,896 bbls. Flour, 141 bbls. Rye Flour, 8,115 bbls. Corn Meal, 2,000 bushels Wheat, 6,356 bushels Corn, 1,730 bushels Oats, 3,990 bushels Peas—making a total to all ports of 38,663 bbls. Flour, 141 bbls. Rye Flour, 8,115 bbls. Corn Meal, 17,452 bushels Wheat, 312,792 bushels Corn, 9,163 bushels Rye, 222,920 bushels Oats, and 3,990 bushels Peas."

In addition to the ordinary or term system of Insurance, this Company issues policies upon the deposit of a certain sum of money, which continue in force, WITHOUT FURTHER PAYMENT, as long as such deposit remains with the Company. Should the insured desire to terminate the insurance AT ANY TIME, NINETY PER CENT. of the deposit will be returned.

This system peculiarly commends itself to the owners of dwellings and their contents, farm property, and the best class of store buildings; also to trustees of churches, school-houses, and other public buildings, and holders of mortgages will find in the perpetual policies, the best collaterals as security for loans. This plan is not a new or untried one, but has been practiced, both in this country and Europe, for nearly one hundred years, and where it is understood, is sought for, as being the MOST DESIRABLE insurance that can be obtained.

Beside furnishing insurance at but little more than half the usual cost, it has the additional advantage that the policy never expires, as is so frequently the case in term insurance, and the property burns in a few days afterward. Perpetual policies are issued only on such risks as promise permanency of occupation, and are non-hazardous in their character.

The rates have been fixed with great care, and after a careful analysis of the experience of the best companies for many years, and a close calculation of the cost of insuring the class of property proposed to be covered by perpetual insurance. Should the property be sold, the policy can be transferred if desired, or the holder may receive back his deposit, less ten per cent., upon a surrender of the policy to the Company. Should the Company desire to cancel the policy at any time, the deposit will be returned without deduction.

To institute a comparison between term and perpetual insurance, it is proper to compute the interest on the annual premium paid, as well as the permanent deposit, for in either case the insured is deprived of the use of the money paid or deposited, and receives the same consideration, namely: a guaranty of indemnity against loss.

The following illustrations, computed at both simple and compound interest, at six per cent., will show the cost, as compared with term insurance, supposing the contract terminated and the deposit reclaimed at the end of the term named, to which a careful consideration is invited.

Larger or smaller sums in the same proportion.

Sometimes a few leading and affluent men in a religious society contribute the amount required to make up the deposit, and present to the society a perpetual policy on their house of worship.

A careful examination of the above illustrations can hardly fail of securing a favorable view of this plan of insurance, taking into consideration the fact that a building once insured is forever insured, unless by special agreement, the policy is terminated. The Company has over seven hundred agencies, in nearly all the important cities and towns in the United States, to whom applications may be made.
